Plea For "States'

Pleading for the immediate repeal of the 18th amendment, the Volstead act and the Snyder-Armstrong act, for the return to the communities of Pennsylvania some of their rights to govern, and characterizing Gifford Pinchot as a "Lone Wolf, a Lobo," and "an arrogant, egotistic man," John M. Hemphill, Democratic candidate for governor, addressed a gathering of voters in The Castleton before noon today.

With Mr. Hemphill were Sedgwick Kistler, Democratic candidate for United States senator, Guy E. Bard, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, and George E. Douglas, Democratic candidate for the superior court. Each of them spoke briefly, but confined their remarks chiefly to a few words of greeting. The meeting was presided over by Attorney Wilbur J. Baer, Democratic county chairman for Lawrence county.

Arrived Tuesday Night

The Hemphill party arrived in The Castleton Tuesday night following a meeting in Sharon, Pa., and from there left for Ellwood City for a noon meeting. This afternoon the party will be in Pittsburgh, where tonight a mass meeting will be held in the Syria Mosque.

Opening his address, Mr. Hemphill said, "It is most pleasing to see such a crowd of voters out for a morning meeting. I am only sorry that it will be impossible for us to hold an evening meeting here."

"Each day as we start work we find it necessary to brush aside the

PA NEW OBSERVES

In spite of the fact that it has been published repeatedly that the Community Chest workers are paying for their own meals, and that not one cent is being spent needlessly on the campaign, there are still some people who circulate stories about town that the workers are dining lavishly at the expense of the contributors. It is these people who drop in on the luncheons about the time the plate is passed, about the time the workers stated today. It is left entirely up to their honor to pay, and not one of the workers tries to sidestep their obligation.

We See At A Glance:

That if Governor Fisher cancels or postpones the November small game season because of the drought in the hunting sections, as has been proposed, the hopes of scores of local hunters for a trip to the woods will be blasted.

That scores of passersby downtown yesterday did not know the fire apparatus test on North Mercer street for a bad fire.

That horsehoes haven't lost a bit in popularity among the post office carriers. But do they know their horsehoes by this time—and how!

That every now and then in the post office lobby is a poster announcing some government job opening in some other districts. All are open to competitive examination, and local residents are eligible to take part.

The bush around the First Christian church is turning color. Just like the tree leaves, and the picture is sure a pretty one.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Despite a pulmonary relapse, Jack "Legs" Diamond clung to life today. Suffering from four bullet wounds fired by unknown gunmen Sunday in the Hotel Monticello, the racketeer was reported in intense pain in Polytechnic hospital, where physicians were ready to abandon hope for his recovery.

At the hospital Diamond's condition was described as critical. He was reported delirious part of the time. His condition has been aggravated by congestion in the chest, where a bullet struck him and lodged in his left side.

Refuses To Talk

Police were balked because of Diamond's sinking in their efforts to wring from him a statement concerning the identity to the men who shot him. However, even in the event of his recovery, Diamond was not expected to reveal his assailants. Police said they did not doubt that Diamond knew who shot him and VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 15.—Dashing east to catch a fast liner at New York, two army aviators were winging their way eastward today with Japan's ratification of the London naval treaty.

Lieut. Irvin A. Woodring carried the treaty which bears the signature of Emperor Hirohito of Japan. It was encased in a wooden receptacle, 18 inches square and two inches deep. Lieut. Wm. Caldwell in a second plane was prepared to take up the task of carrying the treaty in the event the first plane should be disabled.

Each plane is capable of 200 miles an hour and it was possible that a new transcontinental record would be set.

The treaty which arrived last night on the liner Hikawa Maru remained in the hands of the United States Consul Ely Palmer throughout the night, being handed to Lieut. Woodring just before he took off at 5:45 a. m.

COMB WOODS FOR BODY OF VICTIM

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—An old-fashioned .41 calibre double-barreled pistol of the type long in vogue among gamblers on the Mississippi river steam boats of 60 years ago was discovered today near the spot where the blood-spattered wagon of Thomas J. Bowen, missing Glenside bakery driver was found police said.

Cheltenham township officials believe the weapon was used to slay the missing driver. Although it bore the date "1865" stamped on the side, the weapon had been cleaned and polished and recently fired, officials said.

After quizzing a "mystery" witness, Chief of Police Theodore Halliwell, of Cheltenham township, expressed the theory that Bowen was shot twice with the antiquated pistol when he resisted an attempt to rob him of the $150 daily receipts he is known to have been carrying.

After shooting Bowen, Halliwell believes the slayer secreted his body somewhere along Limekiln Pike near the lonely spot where his wagon was found Monday night. The pistol was found in a ditch about a mile from the wagon. Today a number of searchers joined officials in combing the region for the body of the missing man.

The family of Anthony Kovar, Mr. and Mrs. F. Garde, colored, and Mrs. Jess Lowe, also colored, were forced to flee by a fire escape. Damage to the building and contents was estimated at $175 by Chief Lynn.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 15.—No wonder Dwight Morrow stands today so much higher in the public estimation than all our old line politicians.

You might be against his opinions, but you admire his direct way of coming out on everything he talks on. Any other man that had his chance for the presidential nomination would wait and hedge around and not come out either way, and in that way embarrass the present president.

But not Morrow. He just said yesterday that he was for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, but not for repeal of Mr. Hoover.

Hoover will be renominated, and elected, and if we should happen to have some good times along in '32 (over which he has no control), why he will win further than he did the last time, 'cause the Democrats haven't got but one Smith.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—Three terrified children, who came upon the body of a woman lying upon the porch of a shack in New Cumberland, a suburb, spread a "farm" today which disclosed the second double shooting here within eighteen hours.

The dead woman is believed to be Mrs. Mary Hunsicker, 53, of New Cumberland. She was apparently shot with a double-barreled shotgun by Michael Braun, 65, for whom she kept house. Braun turned the weapon upon himself. He is in a critical condition at Harrisburg hospital, suffering from a wound in the head.

Police authorities were unable to state the reason for the shooting which occurred about noon today.

Missouri Town Is Under Martial Law

(International News Service)
GENEVIEW, Missouri, Oct. 15.—This usually quiet river town again bristled with machine gun barrels and rifles today following the recall of the State Militia early this morning.

The state troops were hustled back here again at the request of Sheriff Zeigler of St. Genevieve county who arrested six white men following a demonstration last night in front of the home of a negro mail carrier Louis Ribeau.

Ribeau was one of the negroes who had failed to heed the warning of the whites here to get out of town and "not let the setting sun find them St. Genevieve."

The new flareup of racial trouble occurred when news of the death of Paul Ritter, 38, the second of two white men brutally attacked Sunday by three negroes, two men and a woman near here Sunday, was received from St. Louis. Ritter died shortly after noon yesterday at St. Anthony's hospital in St. Louis. Harry Panchof, Ritter's companion had been killed almost instantly by the negroes.

GREENFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15.—Spurred on by the offer of a $500 reward a large posse of armed citizens today searched for the lone kidnaper of Mrs. Alma Wilson McKinley, daughter of a wealthy oil man and farmer, who succeeded in outwitting her captor after being held for twenty-one hours.

Dishevelled and rain-soaked, the young woman stumbled through the gate of her father's farm late yesterday while armed posses searched the countryside for her.

Mrs. McKinley, an expectant mother, was almost famished when she arrived. She had walked nine miles through the rain on a highway last night. Her kidnaper beside her with shotgun in hand.

Finally she fell from fatigue, she said, and the kidnaper camped in thick woods near Filley in a drizzling rain.

Wrapped in a tarpaulin, the kidnaper sat beside her, demanding $500,000 in ransom money. Her father could not pay that she told him and argued him down to $10,000.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Assuring the government of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, Socialist aid in the passage of his financial program, Paul Loebe was re-elected president of the Reichstag today with a total of 269 votes.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The harassed government of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, beset by labor difficulties and extremists, scored an important victory today when Paul Loebe, a leading member of the Socialist party, receiving 266 votes on the first ballot insuring his election to the presidency of the Reichstag.

To Aid Chancellor

Loebe's success was a definite achievement for Bruening, as Loebe has promised to aid in the passage of the chancellor's disputed financial program. Failure of the Reichstag to pass the measure probably would result in dissolution of the body and the establishment of a dictatorship.

Fascists under the leadership of Adolf Hitler have been unremitting in their efforts to defeat Loebe and alienate the Socialists from the present government, which would automatically cause the fall of the Bruening cabinet.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—Police today were investigating a double shooting on the approach of the new soldiers and sailors memorial bridge here which resulted in the death of W. G. Ennis, 52, and the wounding of his former wife, June Frazier.

The shooting was discovered by Patrolman Samuel Painter, on patrol near the bridge.

Painter hearing gunshots, ran to the bridge. There he found Miss Frazier wounded in the jaw and hand and Ennis' body, with a bullet in the temple.

Miss Frazier was hurried to Polytechnic hospital where physicians today reported her condition to be fair.

Questioning disclosed that Ennis and his former wife, married at Hagerstown, Md., two years ago had separated. For some time they had not seen each other. Last night, as Miss Frazier walked home, Ennis followed her from behind a pillar and fired twice at her she told police, then turned the gun on himself.

Wet-Dry Battle Holds Spotlight As Women Meet

State Federation Of Women's Clubs In Convention Discuss Dry Resolution

ALLENTOWN WOMEN FAVORING REPEAL

(International News Service) SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 15.—Inter-est of 500 delegates at the conven- tion of the State Federation of Pen- sylvania Women's Clubs today cen- tered upon a resolution pledg- ing the federation to continued sup- port of prohibition.

The resolution is slated to come before the convention before it ad- journs its session today and pre- sentation on the floor is expected to be the signal for a flow of de- bate on the wet-dry question. Strong support will be manifested for the resolution, a poll of con- vention leaders today showed, but marked anti-prohibition feeling was also in evidence.

Leaders favoring prolongation of the federation dry stand felt cer- tain the resolution would be ap- proved and that dry sentiment had been bolstered by an address last night by Mrs. John Pearson of Ok- lahoma, urging support for all laws tending to aid prohibition enforce- ment.

Pleas from the dry element that the federation not show itself "weak-kneed" in a political situa- tion which has focused the eyes of the nation on Pennsylvania, how- ever, served only to strengthen the determination of the wet delegates, headed by clubwomen from Allen- town to battle the enforcement res- olution and substitute a more lib- eral statement for it.

Old Mr. Hobson owned a parcel of land which he had been trying to sell for quite a while. At last he found a prospect and after some negotiations a sale was agreed upon. So a paper was drawn up stating the price, and providing, in addition, that the price be divided into five equal payments, to be met annually with interest on all the sums un- paid. The agreement further pro- vided that upon the faithful per- formance by the buyer of his part of the contract, Hobson would de- liver to the purchaser a deed of conveyance to the land.

But for some reason the buyer neglected to make his payments and now when the purchaser should have been making his fifth and last payment, he hadn't in fact yet made the first one. Hobson grew tired of the whole business and turned it over to his lawyer to file suit.

Tuesday afternoon? The ladder was erected from the street to the top of the First National bank building.

Saw a nice silver and black license plate today with 460, 1930-1931. P. R. on and after pondering a minute discovered the car was from Porto Rico, quite a long way from home Pa New would say.

Although there were several heavy frosts during the early part of the month, they were not of the killing variety and lots of local gardeners are still harvesting a bountiful crop of tomatoes.

Good progress is being made in tearing out the Harmony tracks through the upper East Side. A number of streets have been blocked until the work is completed.

To all appearances, Butler avenue should not be closed to traffic much longer from East Washington street up several squares at least. The cement has been laid, set and un- covered and looks so very nice. Pa New for one will be delighted, when the street is open to traffic. It is quite annoying to have to make the many detours necessary to get where you want to be.

Pa New wonders whose job it is to remove detour signs when they are no longer needed? Who ever it is had better make a trip up West Washington street and State street and take down that sign. No one wants to look at it anymore, not, since Grant street was opened to traffic.

If perchance it has slipped your mind, Pa New wishes to announce that this is the first day of the woodcock and snipe season.

coverts of insincerity that have been spun by my opponent for the governorship, Gifford Pinchot. His promises as a candidate are in- consistent with his record as governor and he is going about the state tell- ing the people what they want to hear. The promises to each locality are based upon what that locality wants."

Many Promises "In Philadelphia he promises the people everything they want for the development of the port of Phila- delphia. Yet as governor he vetoed an appropriation which would have helped develop the port. To the farmer he says that he will take over 20,000 miles of road. Road ex- perts tell us that the solution of the rural road problem lies not in taking over more roads, but in giv- ing the local communities state aid. In the meantime he is going over the state, deriding and scolding the legislature, alienating them, and yet without the legislature none of his promises can be made good. I have yet to see a list of legislators he expects to back his wild promises.

"His program of inconsistency reached its peak here in the valley of the Shenango. He offers to com- plete, in his first year of office, the Pymatung dam, at a cost of two and a half millions of dollars, yet in 1923 and 1925 he vetoed the bill of the legislature when it appro- priated money to aid in the com- pletion of this very necessary pro- ject.

Needs Attention "The Pymatung dam needs at- tention. It will mean that your industries in this valley will not have to use the water over and over again because of the low supply. It will mean the impounding the flood waters for use in drought time. Every legislature since 1911 had appropriated money for the Pymatung project, and yet in 1923 and 1925 Pinchot vetoed the appro- priations. He is a lone wolf, a lobo, an arrogant, egotistic man, asking us to believe that out of 10,000,000 peo- ple he is the only one in whom is reposed rectitude and sincerity.

"There are only two issues in this campaign, the second one steps up in the seclusion of government. We have declared against national prohibition, the Volstead act, and the Snyder-Armstrong act. We be- lieve that the only satisfactory so- lution of the liquor problem lies in local government. Nothing as big as the United States can enforce a police regulation nationwide.

"Pennsylvania cannot usurp the duties of the federal government in such things as declaring war, and the federal government should not usurp to itself such state police duties as it has done in the prohibition legislation. This is the big issue of the day. As Democrats we have fought for 140 years for states' rights. Liquor is a state issue. It must be controlled, but the states should do it. Prohibition is unen- forced and unenforceable.

New Jersey and Kansas "By vote of nine to one New Jersey declared against prohibition, and in doing so said that while it wanted to go along with Kansas and Nebraska in maintaining a uni- fied federal government, yet it would not go along with Kansas and Ne- braska in letting those far western states dictate the police policies of New Jersey.

"Pennsylvania is going to elect a Democratic governor on November 4th, just as sure as guns are iron. This is said in an immodest way, for it is the times and not the individ- ual. With the help of hundreds of thousands of Republicans we are going to win, and when we do win on November 4th it will be notice to the nation that Pennsylvania has joined with New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massa- chusetts, Wisconsin and Montana in declaring that liquor is a state issue."

Not once did Mr. Hemphill refer to the Liberal party nomination which he has. His remarks were Democratic in tone and he spoke for the entire Democrat ticket. Fol- lowing the address he held a recep- tion in the lobby and then left for Ellwood City.

STAR LORE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter The Entire Volume of light received from the stars amounts to what 1092 stars of visual magnitude 1.0 would give. We are told that one-fifth of the light comes from the stars that are brighter than the sixth magnitude. The unaided eye sees no stars fainter than the sixth magnitude. Stars brighter than the eleventh magnitude furnish half of the total light, and those above the fifteenth magnitude supply three- quarters of the light. All the light in the heavens on moonless nights does not come from the stars. It has been shown that stars supply about one-sixth of the light. The rest comes from zodiacal light and the permanent aurora radiance.

they were equally certain the racketeer had no intention of telling who made the attack or revealing the slightest clue that might lead to establishment of their identity. Quietly his wife visited him last evening, remaining at his bedside for half an hour. It was reported the gangster failed to recognize her. As the dying racketeer struggled in silence in the same room where Arnold Rothstein died two years ago, police made little progress in solv- ing the mystery shooting. They held five persons as material witnesses but in preliminary statements none of these persons shed any light of importance on the mystery.

Five Are Held

The five held were John M. Gins- berg, manager of the Monticello Hotel; Marion Strasmick Roberts, show girl sweetheart of Diamond; Joseph Goldie, the assistant hotel manager; Thomas Marshall, Clark; and John Hughes, bell boy. Gins- berg was held under $25,000 bail and the bail of the others was fixed at $5,000 each. A statement by Ginsberg, which the police said they did not think was the entire truth, brought into the spotlight in the tragedy a new figure. He is Harry Drescher, an associate of Diamond, who lived in room 625 of the Monticello, two floors below the room in which the racketeer was found shot. The hotel manager asserted that Diamond, as consciousness was leav- ing him, screamed for Drescher and tried to aid him as Ginsberg fled from the scene before the doctor ar- rived. Police Commissioner Mulrooney, who heard the story of Ginsberg with District Attorney Crain in the prosecutor's office, sent out a gen- eral alarm for the apprehension of Drescher for questioning.

Morrow Wins High Contest

Oratorical Contest Is Held At Senior High School This Morning

During the assembly hour today at the local senior high school, an oratorical contest, was held under the auspices of Senatus Romanus, the Latin honorary organization, in honor of Publius Vergilius Maro, Roman poet of the golden age of his race. Today, the Ides on fif- enth of October, marks the two thousandth year since Vergil's birth. The senior high school orators de- claimed on the set subject, "Vergil, One of the Immortals." Each speak- er from his own angle presented an estimate of the personality and lit- erary achievement of this poet who is now reckoned one of humanity's noblest sons.

The equivalent of the program at the high school was being carried out today in many high schools, preparatory schools, colleges and universities in all the civilized coun- tries of the world as a tribute to this supreme literary artist.

As early as last spring Senatus Romanus announced this oratorical contest and promised a first prize of three dollars and a second prize of two dollars. Members of Sen- atus Romanus were excluded from competing so that a general inter- est in the subject might be stimu- lated throughout the school. Five speakers were finally chosen. As a result of the decision of the judges, first place was awarded to Seth Morrow and second place to Clara Houk. These cash prizes will be awarded at a more elaborate cele- bration of the Bimillennium Ver- gilianum in the month of November.

Tom Hawkins, Consul Primus of Senatus Romanus, served ably as chairman of the contest. The stu- dent orators were: Dorothy Camp- bell, Clara Houk, Seth Morrow, Camilla Smith, and Charlotte Whit- ting.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—Rain sweeping inland from the Atlantic coast today brought relief to the drought parched area in the Phila- delphia district and nearby South Jersey, Delaware, and the eastern shore of Maryland as far south as Baltimore.

The destructive forest fires that caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to Jersey and Penn- sylvania woodlands and the cran- berry bogs of South Jersey were quenched by the falling rain.

More mothers each year.. check Colds

2 WAYS at once!

More and more mothers every year turn to the double action of Vicks VapoRub in check- ing colds, coughs, sore throat and spasmodic croup.

Rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, Vicks acts through the skin like a plaster. At the same time, its medicated va- pors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled direct to the air-passages.

This double action of Vicks breaks up congestion and eases breathing, thus prevent- ing the night coughs which so often rob both mother and child of restful sleep.

Being an external treatment, Vicks is especially appreciated by mothers because it avoids the constant "dosing" which so often disturbs children's delicate digestions.

McKay Speaks To Kiwanians

Mercer County District Attor- ney Makes Noon Hour Address

Scientific methods employed in the detection of modern day crime, notably the fact-establishing pro- cess used by ballistic experts to de- termine different types of guns and the lie detector which remarkably shows up instances where inter- rogated criminals have lied, furnis- hed District Attorney Leo McKay of Mercer county his theme when he addressed the Kiwanis club at noon.

The neighboring county official, noted as a vigorous and able pro- secutor in the district which he serves spoke mostly of the methods used by Mercer county in its effort to place responsibility on those guilty of crimes.

He told his audience of Calvin Goddard, one of the outstanding ballistic experts of all time. L. L. Marr, who testified here during the Schroeder-Dague trials was an as- sociate of Mr. Goddard. At differ- ent times Mr. Marr has conducted demonstrations for the benefit of the Mercer county officers.

The lie detector, invented by Le- onardo Keeler of Chicago operates on the theory that when a man is guilty of a crime he will suppress emotion and in doing so this effort will affect his blood pressure. The speaker exhibited the register tape of the device used in questioning suspects.

At different times the district at- torney has visited the headquarters of Mr. Goddard and Mr. Keeler in Chicago, and demonstrations of their different machines have been given especially for him.

The work of both experts is under the jurisdiction of the scientific crime detection laboratory of North- western university, opened for the first time in February of 1929.

DELPHIAN CLUB STUDIES ROMAN

The Castle chapter of the Delphian society closed the study of Roman history at their meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the Castleton, in what proved to be a most interesting program with discussions given by Mrs. H. D. Harlan on "The family of Caesar as Emperors"; Mrs. Charles Metzler on "The Flavian Line"; Mrs. T. M. Shaffer on "Pagan God and Christian Emperors"; and Mrs. R. L. Boyd on "The Fall of Rome."

In addition to the discussions a general view of Roman literature was given by Mrs. A. M. Shumaker, followed by a discussion of "Poets of the Simple Life" by Mrs. E. F. G. Harper.

As the 200th anniversary of Virgil's birth is now being celebrated in academic circles throughout the world, the remainder of the program was devoted to a study of the writings of Virgil. Mrs. R. L. Hildebrand gave excerpts from "Arcadian Shepherds"; Mrs. James N. Rhodes from "Season's on the Farm"; Sara J. Knott from "Beckoning"; and Mrs. T. J. McPate gave "Deeds of Augustus' Ancestor" from the Aeneid.

At the close of the program arrangements were completed for the luncheon to be held at the Castleton on October 28 to mark the close of a successful year's work for this chapter of the Delphian Society.

MARTIN S. WILKISON WEDS YOUNGSTOWN GIRL

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock Miss Maryetta Abey, charming daughter of Mrs. Anna Abey, 1413 Rigby street, Youngstown, O., became the bride of Martin S. Wilkison of Youngstown, O., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Wilkison of this city, at the parsonage of the Tabernacle United Presbyterian church with the Rev. John I. Moore officiating.

The bride was lovely in a distinctive gown of autumn brown chiffon embroidered in gold, designed with a sleeveless bodice and full ankle-length skirt, worn with a close fitting hat of gold metal cloth, beige moire slippers and long kid gloves. Her flowers were sunburst roses in an arm casket. As her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss May Green wore a graceful frock of pale peach crepe, small black velvet hat, black moire slippers, and carried an arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses. Dr. P. H. Kennedy served Mr. Wilkison as best man.

A wedding dinner of beautiful appointments for the bride party and members of the immediate families at Overlook Inn followed the ceremony. Colorful autumn flowers and foliage graced the pretty table, lighted by ivory wax tapers. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wilkison left for a three weeks' motor trip in the east, planning to visit New York City, Washington and to motor in Virginia. For traveling the bride wore a smart garnet wool ensemble trimmed with black gaiters with a garnet felt hat and black accessories. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends on Howard street after November 1.

The bride, a graduate of Lorain O. high school, has been secretary to Warren P. Williamson of Brockway-Williamson-Knott company for the last eight years. Mr. Wilkison is a member of the law firm of Kennedy-Manchester-Ford-Bennett & Powers. He is a graduate of the New Castle senior high school and the University of Michigan.

The bride remembered her maid of honor with a beautiful mesh bag, and Mr. Wilkison presented his best man with a leather bill fold. Mrs. Wilkison, an accomplished and attractive young woman, has been feted at a series of delightful pre-nuptial parties since the announcement of her betrothal several weeks ago.

Masquerade Party.
An interesting event of Tuesday evening was the masquerade party held by the members of the Loyal Band class of the Third United Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. W. H. Schoenfeld, Huron avenue.

A short business meeting was held with Mrs. Jane Johnson presiding after which Muriel Harris entertained with some clever readings and duets were sung by Miss Harris and Mary Lewis.

The clever use of orange and black with all kinds of Halloween suggestions made the rooms a suitable setting for the grotesque costumes of the members.

At a late hour the hostess, with the aid of Mrs. Lola Kerr and Mrs. Mary Lewis, served a delicious luncheon. November 11 the class will meet in the church parlors.

House Guests Entertained
Mr. and Mrs. John C. W. Cooper and son Clyde and George and daughter Edna, Margaret who have been spending a few days with the latter brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Beaver Falls, R. D. 1 and cousins of the former and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cooper of Wheeling, West Va., returned home Sunday. They were the dinner guests of the late's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Jones of Savannah.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES
Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cured of a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound, known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

AUTUMNAL NOTE IN CHARMING LUNCHEON

One of the most charming social events of the early fall season occurred Tuesday afternoon in the New Castle Field Club house when Mrs. E. W. Crawford entertained at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon-bridge. Gay golden brown leaves and fall flowers, artistically arranged throughout the club house, combined the Halloween and Autumnal note that formed indeed a most striking background for the attractive gowns worn by the ladies.

Aides for the afternoon included Mrs. Albert Harbison, Mrs. Rebecca Royce, Mrs. Max Ludwig, Mrs. D. I. Harris, Mrs. Lloyd Strayer and Mrs. W. A. Stritmatter.

Crime Never Pays

NEVER A TIME LIKE THIS

IN ALL societies man feeds more upon abstractions than he does upon facts. He is doubtless the most content who finds his kingdom in his mind. Such was the teaching of the days when the right to the pursuit of happiness was written into the Declaration of Independence, and the doctrine has not yet gone out of vogue. Yet the tangible and negotiable are what appeal to most people in this age of utilitarian comforts.

This generation derives most of its pleasure from automobiles, radios, sports, theaters and traveling. It likes fine homes, luxurious furnishings, fine clothes and simple but costly jewelry. It is enjoying life if ever there was a generation that did. But it works as well as plays. It must work to indulge in the luxuries and pleasures the man of today feels he must indulge in. And working at high speed it must play harder or break under the strain.

Despite spectacular crime and pillage, there never was a day of worthier experience with higher awards than exists today in the United States for the young man who is willing to do one thing—buckle his best intelligence to honest work.

SECRET OF A LONG LIFE

Anyone who passes the century mark becomes an object of interest to his fellows. How did it happen? What rule of life must a centenarian follow? The infallible recipe has not yet been found, nor will it ever be. Chance plays too large a part to make this possible. A woman on Staten Island who has lived to be 109 says that hard work, abundant sleep and no worry will turn the trick. This seems to be another counsel of perfection, like abstinence from tobacco and liquor or the reverse. There is no theory of universal application.

Perhaps the hard workers live longer than the idlers, but there is no proof of it. One class wears out, the other rusts out, avers the Philadelphia Inquirer. It may be said plausibly that work is a medicine for many troubles, at least occupying the mind and preventing it from dwelling on things past remedy. That it prolongs life is not so certain. Generally speaking, brain workers live longer, on the average, than manual workers, which proves, if it proves anything, that too much exercise may be injurious. Persons of slight build and nervous temperament often outlast the robust and athletic. In "Man and Wife" Wilkie Collins portrayed the dangers of strenuous physical contests. But it would be very difficult to lay down a general rule.

"It is not death, but life, that kills," and "the small attrition and annoy" may be harder to bear than great afflictions. This argument is not wholly conclusive. Serious worry may affect the health, to be sure. But is not its connection with death remote or indirect? The Staten Island woman says that she never worries. Obviously she has an insensitive temperament. The secret of her long life is really beyond revealing.

EUROPE TRIES IT

Before the United States began the severe restriction of immigration the same relationship existed between prosperity and the number of immigrants welcomed and bad times and the number of departing immigrants that is now to be found in the European countries talking of immigration restriction.

This is only natural, but it has often been overlooked in discussions of the immigration problem by Europeans. At the same time they have failed correctly to estimate the net effect of immigration restriction upon the people affected.

In their resentment at not being permitted to enter the United States foreigners have charged this country with deliberately seeking to pauperize the European working classes. Aside from the palpable absurdity of such charges, they overlook the fact that South America, and to a lesser extent Canada and Australia, welcome immigrants.

So accustomed had the people of Europe become to the opportunity to emigrate that they looked upon it as an inalienable right when the countries on the receiving end began cutting down on them for economic and social reasons. It will take years to reconcile them to the lowered gates in the land of opportunity, but a little toying with the problem by Europeans at home will expedite the process. They will be more charitable toward Uncle Sam now that they know what it is to have more alien residents than you can find employment for.

AFTER THE BALL

Human nature is a funny combination. It causes many men to spend hours each day trying to make one ball hit two others, it sets another group to the task of trying to get a small pitted one to fall into a little hole, it crowds grand stands and bleachers with people who hope to see a horsehide covered one sail over a fence and it sends still another outfit through the front doors of a place with three of them hanging over it. Then there is football. Why don't they change the National Anthem to "After the Ball"? asks the Fort Worth Record-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—Hot and dry in Washington. Arrivals at the railroad station read in gigantic red letters: "Welcome Disciples of Christ."

A man, faintly shining in his blue eyes, tells you "We are not the only Christians, but we are Christians only."

In 1795 Alexander Campbell decided that there were too many Christian religions, and started another, planning to unite them all. That didn't happen, but his new church lasted, and has spent $1,500,000 on a new building just completed in Washington.

Those that have seen the president recently, report that he is working very hard, has lost about 15 pounds, thanks to a summer spent in Washington's heat. He is interested primarily in business conditions and particularly in the fact that certain Wall Street patriots selling stock short are increasing public anxiety for profit.

It will interest some Wall Street men to know that their stock selling manipulations are known in detail. One man, for instance, who sold great quantities of an amusement stock short, then wired all his branch houses that the amusement company's annual report was falsified and advised customers to sell the stock, that he might cover his short sales.

THE DEPARTMENT of Justice may interest itself in vicious short selling, and if it does, some big firms may read in public print details of their transactions and those of customers that ordinarily they would not make public.

HENRY NORMAN MILBURN, whose picture appears on the front page of the Baltimore Evening News, will never see the excellent likeness. Found dead in a clump of woods, his last message to his wife said:

"I have lost everything in the stock market and am nearly crazy. Please bury my body in St. Mary's County."

Refraining from gambling would have saved him.

MRS. ELIZABETH CONVERSE, only twenty-seven, was picked up dead near Falls Church, Virginia, returning from a moon hunt at six o'clock in the morning.

A powerful automobile driven by her left the road on a curve, knocked over two trees, cut off a telephone pole at the base. The unfortunate young woman was killed instantly. Her head crushed, both legs and arms broken. Her companion died later.

The impact tore the shoes from her feet. They were found 100 feet apart.

When you drive a car at 50 or 60 miles an hour you are riding on a bullet weighing from five to eight thousand pounds, going about 100 feet a second. Motorists remember that.

DINOSAUR EGGS found originally in Tibet have been discovered in America. The "hen" dinosaur that laid them was about 80 feet long. Standing up she could look over tall trees.

These strange animals of all sizes once covered and apparently dominated the earth. Some, carnivorous, lived on the others, peaceful vegetarians.

SUDDENLY THEY vanished, at about the same time, and science wonders why.

Swarms of savage rats gnawed their feet, thus destroying them, according to one theory, and, according to another, animals of higher intelligence killed them off, as British and American bipeds are killing off elephants, giraffes and rhinoceroses, in Africa.

A third theory describes an outbreak of volcanic eruptions in various parts of the world that filled the atmosphere with dust and made it impossible for the dinosaurs to breathe.

NO MORE waving of flags and lanterns on long freight trains. The engineer and conductor talk to each other by radio. This means simplified and safer operation of trains sometimes a mile long. But romance goes as railroad efficiency increases. Old trainmen and passengers remember mournful days when a smokestack was shaped like a hoop skirt upside down, and brakemen rushed out on open platforms to turn the brakes when they heard the engineer's whistle.

NOT LONG AGO Jack, alias "Legs" Diamond, went to Europe, and Germany sent him back. Evidently "Legs" knew why he went. He is in the hospital now with many bullets and slugs from saved-off shotguns in his body.

HIS CLOTHES were found hanging in the closet of a room occupied by a young lady, in the hotel in which he was shot.

Police are "grilling" the young woman, suspecting that she may have put the unfortunate "Legs" conveniently on the spot. She says: "I was always a good girl, this is just my luck." Coldly truthful reports of modern crime make Eugene Sue's "Mysteries of Paris" with his Courineur and Squelette look tame.

Japan's Liberal Tendencies Seen In Approval Of Treaty

New Mark In International Agreements Declared Set As Great Powers Find Common Interest In Reduction Of Armaments

Liberal tendencies in Japan are observed by the public in the approval by the Council at Tokyo of the London naval treaty. After centuries of conservatism in the Oriental empire, a more democratic spirit is welcomed by the people of the United States as well as those of other republics. It is also pointed out that a new mark in efforts toward peace has now been set, although troubles in the region of the Mediterranean still cause some concern.

Commenting on the "unconditional approval" by the Privy Council of Japan, the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE declares that "this marks the final defeat of the Japanese counterparts of our own preachers of 'staunch Americanism.'" The Pacific Coast paper adds: "These Japanese politicians wailed loudly that their country had been 'sold out' to Britain and America. They were just as loud in their protests as those so-called 'staunch Americans' who were sure that the United States had been 'sold out' to Japan and Britain. But apparently nobody believed them. They didn't get any further in Japan than they did in America. Great stuff, this 'staunch Americanism' and 'staunch Nipponism.' It's a fine catch-penny phrase for personal ballyhoo."

"The most serious obstacle—ratification by the United States Senate," according to the GRAND RAPIDS PRESS, "was met first of all, and doubtless aided in the general progress of the treaty. While shipyards will be busy for years under the authorized building programs of the treaty these programs in every case will be far below the naval race building which was in prospect and practically under way. Moreover, capital ship tonnage will be scrapped and along with it the cost of maintaining and manning great battle-ships. The world has saved money, and the world in one of the few ways it may be done in advance, has made peace."

Recalling "efforts of the big navy element at Tokyo to force obnoxious reservations," the HOUSTON CHRONICLE expresses satisfaction that "the government which had sent the delegation to London did not falter," and concludes that "the war clouds which have lowered threateningly over the Pacific are now blown away by the clean winds of international justice and good will." The Chronicle finds it "comforting to feel that the sea powers of the world have composed mutual differences in amicable fashion and to the advantage of all." It continues: "Great Britain, America and Japan, the Three Musketeers of the sea, stand steadfast, arm in arm, their motto, 'All for one and one for all.' No more dreadnaughts for them, not while the cost is so great, the reward so small. The nations of Europe must follow suit if they expect to live at peace with each other and the world."

"Further victory for popular government in Japan" is hailed by the KANSAS CITY STAR, which points out that "for years the Privy Council was the power behind the throne in Japan," and that "it always cooperated with the general staffs of the Army and the Navy," but that "recently its authority has been disputed by the elected government with considerable success, and for a time it looked as if the Council, which is a bureaucratic body unrecognized by the Constitution, might try to make the treaty an issue in the hope of regaining some of its lost power." The Star feels that "the Council seems to have thought better of such a project."

Final assent by the Privy Council to the treaty, the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "is eloquent not only of the force of the demand in the Empire for relief by international agreement from the dangers and financial burdens of competitive naval building, but of the growing democratization of the country. Old Japan, made a determined stand against both the Kellogg Pact and the treaty. Acceptance of both is a victory for new progressive Japan and the approaching inauguration of a purely parliamentary regime in the country. For the first time in history, the greatest naval Powers of the world are henceforth bound by an agreement limiting tonnage in every class of warship. Further steps to armament reduction are inevitable despite obstacles and militarist resistance in every country."

"The scare is over. For whatever it may be worth, the treaty will stand," avers the DAYTON DAILY NEWS. "The SPRINGFIELD UNION sees a 'growing spirit of cooperation among all nations,' and the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS interprets the Japanese action as evidence that "its government now is more responsive to public opinion than ever before in the nation's long, picturesque history under a dynasty that has endured for more than two thousand years." The HARTFORD COURANT believes that "if the governments concerned are responsive to the will of the peoples to which they look for support, they will so order their policies that extension of the terms of the treaty upon its expiration in 1935 will come about almost as a matter of course."

Skepticism, however, is expressed by the BALTIMORE EVENING SUN in the statement: "The Japanese formally approved the London naval treaty a few days ago. Now they are making preparations for elaborate naval maneuvers to determine to what extent more airplanes can take the place of 26,000 tons of submarines that the pact lopped off the Japanese naval program. At the end of the maneuvers the Japanese admirals will estimate how many airplanes will be needed to replace the submarines. The airplanes will then be built. And when they have finally been placed in commission the Japanese Navy will be right back where it started."

"It seems fair to emphasize at this time," says the SOUTH BEND TRI-BUNE, "the fact that the agreement brings a pause in naval rivalry. Whether it will lead to further reductions in the armaments that burden mankind is a moot point. The answer may be had in the next decade." The KALAMAZOO GAZETTE advises that "if France and Italy will manage somehow to reach a working agreement in the next few years, it should be possible to devise a more comprehensive and more effective naval treaty when the powers assemble again."

"Under the terms of the treaty," argues the TERRE HAUTE STAR, "Great Britain reserves the right to increase her naval tonnage in the event the Latin powers embark on a more ambitious program. That automatically gives America and Japan the privilege of similar increase in the various classifications of the fighting fleet. The situation in Europe just now is rather ominous for the cause of armament reduction. Agreement among the world's three major naval powers, however, is a decided contribution toward the goal of international good will."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

VERY MUCH MENTAL

While waiting to be served in a Paris restaurant, a regular habitue picked up a new newspaper, a sastruding from behind a picture. When the waiter came, the customer said: "Henri, I shall take a cheaper wine from now on. I see by this paper times are going to be very hard, so I must commence to economize. The waiter reported the matter to the proprietor, who said: 'If that is the case, I also must economize. So I've phoned the automobile company, saying: "Times are getting very hard; my customers are cutting down on their orders, so I shall have to cancel that order for a new car." The manager of the automobile company phoned the artist: "Times are getting pretty hard; customers are cancelling orders for automobiles so I shall have to cancel that order for my wife's portrait." The artist phoned his wife: "You will have to do without that fur coat; times are very hard, people are cancelling their orders."

Next day, the same customer went as usual to his restaurant, picked up a paper, and found the news the same. He had read the day before. Looking at the date he found the paper two years old. To the waiter he said: "Henri, that was a mistake about the hard times; I had an old newspaper. Bring me my usual wine again." Again the waiter reported the matter to the proprietor, who properly ordered the new car. The automobile manager got his wife's portrait, and the artist's wife got her fur coat.

It's mostly mental. Put your money in circulation, so it can go all the way along the line.

Run-A-Way Boy Writes To News Men Who Helped Him Get Back Home

Runaway boys, and girls, are frequent visitors at the New Castle police department, generally because anxious parents or friends have asked the authorities here to be on the lookout for them. It is seldom that they seek out the police headquarters of their own accord.

Fortunate for the runaways is it when some kind hearted person gets them in tow or a police officer does apprehend them. It means that they will be returned to their homes, where in spite of their often unimagined wrongs, they are bound to find their best friends and greatest happiness.

This was manifested recently when a lad in his teens happened, most fortunately for him to come in contact with a kind hearted young lady, who had had a brother who ran away.

She talked with him a long time for his grievance was strong within him, namely that his mother had made him wash the dishes, just like a girl, and he was not going to have anything like that in his life.

When she had however, about overcome his desire to continue on out in the world, she notified the police and he was taken to the central police station.

Kind words by a police officer added to his growing desire to go home and when some representatives of The News and others had shown him how the mother who had made him wash dishes was in fact his best friend, he was quite ready to start home, even if he had to walk.

One of these news hounds finally provided the money that would insure his return home by bus and it was a deeply grateful boy, who started on his way home.

And he kept his pledge to return home, as is indicated by a letter received by one of the newspaper men, who had helped him get home. It illustrates better than anything else, why the average boy or girl, if advised properly, will stay at home instead of running away for alleged fancied wrongs done them.

The letter received follows:—"I reached home all right and I was never so glad to walk into the house as I was at 2 p. m. on Monday. Dinner was being served and my mother was glad to see me and didn't do anything mean about my going away.

"I'll bet the next time I run away I'll either be twenty-one or stay at home. Every time I hear a freight train whistle I think of jumping on the train outside of Butler Junction, while it was stopped, getting water. If it hadn't been for Miss Waldman, I don't know where I would be by now. Out starving some place, I suppose. Every boy at school is going to go traveling, but I'll bet they will be just as glad to get home as I was. Everything was the same as I had left it, but I sure was glad to get back.

"Anything was better than jumping freights and starving all the time. We have a little dog, a fox terrier, at home called Betty and she was glad to see me home again, so I guess when I skipped out it effected everyone around.

"If you ever catch any of the fellows from around here, lock them up till they promise they will go home and then see that they do get home and don't start leaving the house behind again some night. I can think of no more to say, so I will close hoping this finds you well."

Any boy who will read the above letter should be convinced that home is the best place after all and think twice before he leaves it.

Police Salaries In 1905 And Now

In 1905 Policemen Drew $65 And $70 A Month, Ordinance Shows

Police salaries in 1905 were not so large, in fact they were commensurate with the size of the force according to a perusal of an old ordinance book which recites what police should be paid.

The schedule paid and the monthly sums received now follows: Chief, $85; 1930, $177.50.

Night lieutenant, 75; 1930, $166.50. In those days there was no captain who now by virtue of his office heads the traffic squad. The present salary is $170.50.

For first year service in 1905, police drew $65 and for a second year or service and thereafter $70.

First year police now receive $139 and for the period beginning with the second year $150.

Sprinkler For Cars Placed In Operation

South Beaver Street Car Barn Uses Broadside Of Water To Clean Trolley Cars

A sprinkler to wash street cars, installed at the South Beaver street car barn a week ago was tried out for the first time this morning by C. V. Mack, foreman at the barn.

According to Mack the new system saves time in washing street cars. Street cars are now soaped and then run on a newly cemented trackway where they are sprayed by two standing pipes. In the past, Mack said, it was necessary to soap and wash the cars by hand.

The sprinkler was resigned by A. B. Creelman of Youngstown, superintendent of equipment for the Penn-Ohio system.

Collecting Tin Cans In North Hill Section

Tin cans are being collected today in the North Hill district. The collection truck started on its round yesterday. The truck is kept continually on duty in some section of the city.

Several years ago the city arranged for a "Tin can collection week" which did not prove very satisfactory. Superintendent Phillips reports.

This was due to tin cans being placed in receptacles along the sidewalk and when they were not collected immediately would be scattered all over the street.

This is one reason why Phillips decided to keep one truck continuously in operation for the purpose of collecting cans every day in some part of the city.

BEAUTIFUL and CHARMING! It's an added special quality that makes the beauty of a pretty girl. But she's a natural favorite to begin with. And for the same reason Camels are favorites with the modern crowd. Scientific principles govern their manufacture; but the mildness, the fragrance, the delicate flavor are natural qualities of the tobacco.

There's enjoyment in the smoking of a Camel. Camels go with happy faces . . . a lift of spirits with the opening of every fresh, fragrant pack. For Camel's delightful mildness holds all the natural goodness of choicest tobaccos. Don't confuse it with the flatness or insipidness of "over-treated" cigarettes.

MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should learn all about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE, Write The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y. Lantern Slides
To Feature ServicePictures Of Japan Will Be Shown In Missionary Alliance
Tabernacle
Tonight

"So many were unable to see the slides and pictures of Japan last Saturday night that they will be shown again Wednesday evening at the Missionary Alliance Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street after the regular service," said Rev. C. H. Erickson to a large crowd gathered to hear him last evening. Among the visitors at the service last night was Rev. Johnson of the Methodist church and also Rev. Parks of the Free Methodist church.

The theme of the sermon was the story of Naaman the leper, and how he came to the prophet of old to find healing. Using leprosy as a type of sin, the evangelist compared Naaman's life with that of the average person of today.

This is the closing week of the campaign at the Tabernacle, and everyone is urged to attend. A speaker system has been installed in the church so that those unable to obtain a seat in the main auditorium will be able to hear just as well in the basement of the church.

NOW, HE ENJOYS FOODS THAT USED TO DISAGREE

"For over five years it seemed like everything I enjoyed eating would disagree with me," says Charles L. Garman, 5438 Irving St., Philadelphia. I suffered from headaches; was nervous; couldn't sleep right.

"I tried a lot of things for indigestion, but nothing really helped until my doctor started me on Pape's Diapepsin. I have used five packages and have gained five pounds. I eat anything—fried things, hot cakes; foods that used to disagree. I seldom feel the least discomfort nowadays, but when I do I just take a tablet of Pape's Diapepsin and in a moment my stomach is all right."

When thousands like Mr. Garman are coming right out in public to praise Pape's Diapepsin, there seems no reason to doubt that it does what is claimed for it to help people who suffer from acid-dyspepsia, and the heartburn, gas, nausea, belching, headaches, dizziness, etc., caused by this common ailment. But those who wish further proof before buying may easily have it. The makers agree to send anyone a trial package absolutely FREE. Just write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va.

RIVETS MAKE YOUR HOT WATER BOILER PRESSURE-TIGHT...

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE

is gas-tight and dust-tight because it is riveted

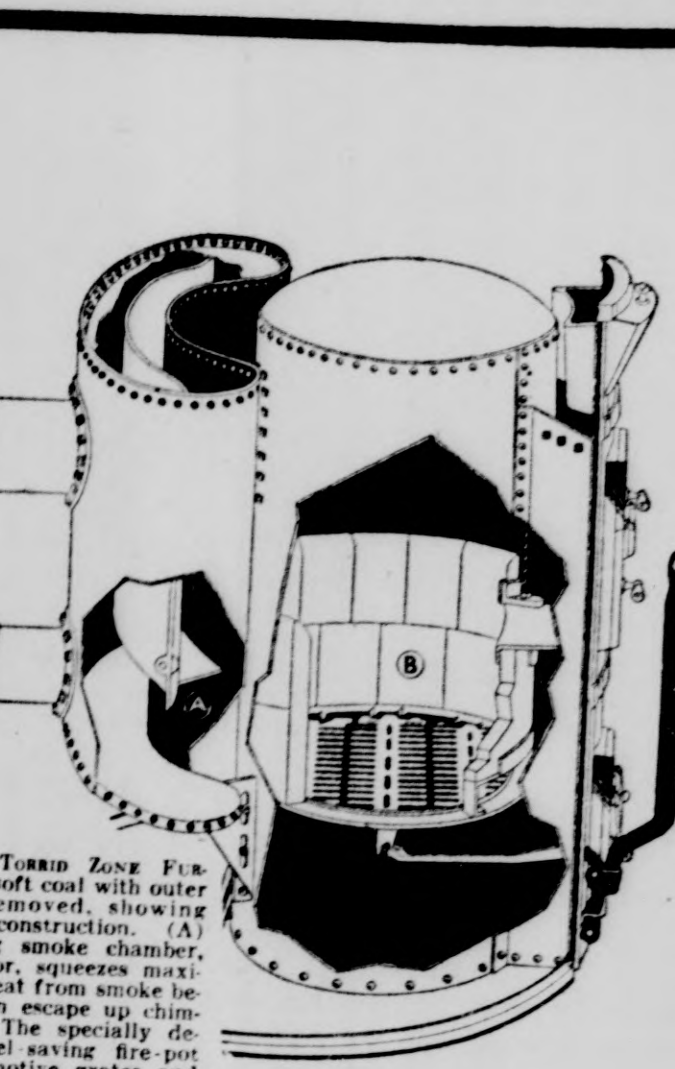

Homes heated by a steel Torrid Zone are conspicuously clean and bright. From its sealed seams no smoke or fumes can ever escape to play havoc with your furnishings, your temper or your health.

For just as your hot water boiler is made pressure-tight by hot-riveting and cold-calking... so the steel Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

Rivets glue steel to steel in a Lennox Torrid Zone to keep dust and coal gas in their place. Offensive odors around the house following a trip to the furnace room or when you've banked the fire, become a thing of the past. You'd be surprised to find how much cleaner and more healthful your home can be.

The Torrid Zone Furnace is an economical furnace. It produces from 10% to 20% more heat from the fuel used, hence uses less fuel than other furnaces. Many home owners report a yearly fuel saving of from $30 to $50.

Burns soft coal, coke, hard coal, oil, lignite or gas more efficiently than any other furnace.

LENNOX TORRID ZONE FURNACE for soft coal with outer casing removed, showing riveted construction. (A) Extra-long smoke chamber, or radiator, squeezes maximum of heat from smoke before it can escape up chimney. (B) The specially designed fuel-saving fire-pot with locomotive grates and other features. You can see why this furnace is guaranteed for 10 years, and why its average life, based on the service records of thousands of Torrid Zones, is 21 years.

Two other winter inside problems are well taken care of by the Torrid Zone, humidity and ventilation. The proper amount of humidity is supplied by a humidifier that has twice the evaporating area inside the casing of ordinary water pans. Rapid evaporation is also necessary, so it is placed right over the firing doors. Proper air circulation is guaranteed when an authorized Lennox Furnace man makes the installation. Certainly the Torrid Zone makes a well-planned warm air system the most desirable kind of heat that science has yet devised.

Come in and see this furnace. Take a look at its sturdy locomotive grates and "lazy" shaker. Plans and estimates for installation will be furnished. Also free engineering service from the factory on special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

Clendening Tells Signs Of Diabetes

Sugar In The Urine Is Sure Symptom Of Disease

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Diabetes is a disease of certain cells in the pancreas, the result of which is that the body cannot utilize sugar or starch.

All the numerous complications of diabetes arise from that comparatively simple defect.

Normally sugar or starch—any of the substances known as carbohydrates—are utilized in the body for fuel. Life cannot go on if the carbohydrates are not utilized, any more than an automobile can run without burning gasoline. Carbohydrate is present in bread and bread-stuffs, sugar, vegetables, fruits honey and milk. The body can convert parts of meat and eggs into carbohydrate, and a small part of fat.

When carbohydrate is absorbed into the blood in a normal person, it goes to the muscles or the liver. In the liver it is stored. In the muscles it is burned, when muscular activity is carried out. If the supply in the muscles is exhausted they call on the storage supply in the liver.

Whichever way the carbohydrate gets to the muscles, it is burned after the same manner. It unites with oxygen, furnishing energy just as the union of oxygen with gasoline furnishes energy in your motor car or the union of oxygen and coal furnishes heat and energy in your furnace.

The thing which happens in diabetes which prevents the usual process from taking place is that a secretion from certain cells in the pancreas is absent or deficient. The nature of this secretion is now known and is called insulin. It seems to act much as the spark in your automobile engine works, or a match applied to the wood or coal in your furnace. It touches off the sugar and oxygen and causes them to unite. In diabetes there is just as much sugar and just as much oxygen present as in a normal body, but there is not the insulin to cause them to burn.

The result of this failure to burn the sugar is that it accumulates in the muscles and in the blood and is cast off by the kidneys in the urine. The kidneys are very sensitive to unusual amounts of sugar in the blood, and instantly remove all in excess of 1 per cent.

Thus the outstanding sign of diabetes is sugar in the urine. Many people suppose that because the urine is abnormal in diabetes, because it must be examined so often and because it is such a good index to the patient's condition, that diabetes is a disease of the kidneys. This is not true. The kidneys are perfectly healthy. It is the cells of the islets of Langerhans in the pancreas that are at fault.

Tomorrow we will discuss the symptoms the patient feels in diabetes.

The hurried expression on the faces of a good many business men may not be due entirely to the stress of economic conditions. They may have dial telephones in their offices.—The Milwaukee Sentinel.

Basement Room At Library To Be Used Soon

Story Hour This Year Will Be Held In Remodeled Basement Of Library

A splendid large room will await the children of New Castle who come to the New Castle free public library for their weekly story hour period, this winter.

By November, when the story library, a large basement room under the south wing of the New Castle Free public library, will be completely re-modeled and in shape for use, it is announced by Miss Alice Sterling, librarian.

At the present time workmen are engaged in preparing the basement room for use. The size and shape of the room will be identical to the same as the room directly above it, used as a reference room. That will be plenty of space for the large number of children who gather to hear the children's librarian, Miss Alice Joyce tell about Cinderella and the Beauty and the Beast.

Miss Sterling says that the flooring work has already been completed and the men are now at work extending the heating system into the room, and doing the plumbing work.

An outside entrance leads to the new story hour room, and new steps have been placed, leading down to the entrance. The steps were made of wood from packing boxes found in the basement. The utmost economy is being used in all the remodeling work.

State "Y" Boys' Work Leader Was Originator Of Daily Church Story

Charles E. Ford, boys' work secretary of the State committee of the Y. M. C. A. who came here Tuesday with A. R. Klemer, regional boys' work secretary of the National Council, to lead in the discussions at the boys' work leadership conference at the local "Y", has his own idea about how boys' work should be conducted.

But before he gives his views in an interview to which he has consented, he tells the reporter that he himself was a newspaperman once—in fact still remains one—and conducted a daily church column.

And to prove his allegiance to the Fourth Estate Ford pulls out a colored card which states that he is a member in good standing of the Milwaukee Press Club.

Ford, by the way, has the unique distinction of being the originator of the daily church column in American newspapers.

"It happened this way," he tells. "When I was general secretary of the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. I was handling the publicity of the Federation of Churches. The city editor of the Milwaukee 'News' was looking for a man to take care of a column on church matters published with the aid of the Federation. I started the column and continued it for years. It was the first daily church column in the country."

Ford continues to be a newspaperman. Today he handles the publicity for the state Y. M. C. A. the headquarters of which are in Harrisburg.

An author, too, he has written the "First Principles of Boys' Work Leadership," a practical book for the Association Press, which has been read by 20,000 boys' work leaders in the country.

But the idea of Ford is perhaps his greatest achievement. In brief, he thinks boys' work of today is too standardized.

CHARLES E. FORD

"Many of the activities of boys today are like the factory-made products of the nation-like automobiles made in the progressive system, or soup handed out quickly to a waiting line—like an automat. Some boys do certain things and when they are through in a certain way and in a certain time they are supposed to have character. In other words, officially made to order."

No, Ford cannot find character building in standard activities that demand certain things at certain hours—or years. He tells about some "laws" which he and his colleagues in the study of boys' work leadership and group activities of boys have found. He says that boys should not be ordered to do this or that.

"It should be so that the boys are creative or alert to adjust themselves to conditions."

Directory Head Formerly Worked On Papers Here

D. W. Bowman Recalls Early Days As Newspaperman
In New Castle

D. W. Bowman, head of the Burch Directory Company, compilers of the New Castle and Ellwood City directories, is a visitor in the city today, renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. Bowman is a former New Castle newspaperman and recalled a number of his experiences while he worked on the papers here.

He has seen a great many changes in New Castle since he left here 40 years ago, and although he visits here from time to time, can always find something new to attract his attention.

After leaving New Castle, he took over the Burch Directory Company of Akron, which he has built into a big business.

Mr. Bowman states that conditions have changed considerably during the past ten years in that business, and his workers find it increasingly difficult to gather the information necessary in the publishing of a directory, because of the fact that people are on the go so much with the increased use of the automobile.

Chest Workers Told To Stick To Their Task

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson Asserts That Goal Will Be Reached

SAYS WORKERS MUST SEE PROSPECTS

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, who was the speaker at the Community Chest luncheon Tuesday noon, told the workers assembled that the goal would be reached next Monday, but that every one of them taking part in the task would have to do the work laid out for them. He told them that many things had been said at the previous luncheons which were for the outsiders, but what he was about to say, applied to those present. He stated that in staking a campaign, such as this, that the workers should survey the situation.

"As I have surveyed this campaign, two things have come to me," he stated. "Every man, woman, and child has some responsibility in life. To one class, this responsibility is of an artificial nature, and because of one's position in the business world. The other responsibility comes to one by his position in the social world."

"The only difference between the two is that in the first case, one has responsibility with authority, and in the latter, one has no authority. People with responsibility but without the authority is what we have in this Community Chest. You have the responsibility of raising the funds needed, but have no authority to order anyone to give. You can only ask for it."

"You will shortly get prospect cards which have been culled out of the general campaign, cards which will represent enough money to put the campaign over the top and if solicited, will put the campaign over the top."

"The responsibility lies with the individual worker. Each one will get so many cards, and they must accept the responsibility of seeing their prospects. You cannot depend on someone else seeing these prospects. Each person who gets these cards must say, 'this is my own personal charge and I will see my prospects before Monday.' If that is done, the campaign will succeed."

"I am reminded by the campaign of a trans-Atlantic airplane flight. No matter how much fuel the plane has, and how far it has flown, if the gas line should become clogged up and the fuel would stop feeding the engine, the plane would stop. Let us keep the line open until we reach the goal."

SAYS SHE LAID AWAKE HOURS AT NIGHT

—That Was Seven Years Ago—
Tanlac Made Her Well
Then and Has Kept
Her Well Ever Since

What she said in 1923

In 1923 Mrs. Homer Marshall, R. D. 23, Parkersburg, W. Va., wrote us: About 6 months ago my health suddenly failed. Was so weak could hardly raise my arms. I would be awake until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. Had no appetite and indigestion troubled me horribly. One day I saw where Tanlac had helped a woman who suffered like I did. After taking 3 bottles, I had a fine appetite, slept all night and got up feeling strong and well. I give all thanks to Tanlac.

What she said in 1930

On July 30, 1930, this same woman wrote: Since 1923 when I first took Tanlac, I've never been bothered with nervousness, headaches or indigestion. Tanlac is a wonderful remedy and it was certainly a great relief to find one remedy that could really put me in good health again permanently. Tanlac has helped millions to overcome sleeplessness, stomach troubles and restore the keen appetite of youth. Try a bottle. It must help you or your druggist will refund your money. Ruralites Of Pennsylvania Turn Cityward

Number Of Farms Shows

Middle Atlantic States Rank
Second In Geographic Division Of Country

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15.—Rural Pennsylvania is turning cityward more rapidly than the country as a whole and with more rapidity than 37 of the 48 states, it would appear from a study of farm figures for the entire nation made public today by the bureau of the census.

Since 1920 the number of farms in Pennsylvania has fallen off 14.9 per cent, whereas the farms of the country as a whole have declined only 2.3 per cent in number, according to the census bureau report. Ten of the 48 states reported greater percentage drops in farms during the decade than did the Keystone State.

The census bureau in its report lists the 1930 farms in Pennsylvania as totaling only 172,046, compared to 202,250 in 1920, a decrease of 30,204 farms or 14.9 per cent.

The Middle Atlantic States rank second of the nine geographic divisions of the country in the percentage decline in farms during the past decade. New England led the regions with a decrease of 19.7 per cent, the Middle Atlantic States coming second with a drop of 16.1 per cent.

THE CHILD
I thought it must be nice to be
A curly-headed child of three,
Without one thought of bitter hate
Or envy of the worldly great;
Unspoiled by time; unscarred by

In fairs still to hold belief,
And see the moon and stars each night
With wonderment and real delight
Thought I, an adult fills his mind
With cruelties of every kind
And linked with every loving thing
He sees is harsh suspicion
A constant prey to doubts and fears
He grows more cowardly with the years.

But to the eyes of every child
The world's delights are undefined.
But I suppose, and I am glad,
That children never see the bad.
For could we read each youthful

To our surprise perhaps we'd find
They think of us the self-same way
And to themselves in secret say
Being blind to every fault and scar
"How wonderful the grownups are!"

"Home Sweet Home," a comical one-act play was given this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in the chapel program at the George Washington junior high school by a cast made up partly of teachers. Several parents attended the performance.

Mrs. Todd, or Miss Betty Glover, dramatics teacher makes an effort to pacify him, but is only successful in helping him to miss the train.

DRAFT OF PENSION BILL FOR CITY FIRE-FIGHTERS

Robert White, solicitor for the city of New Castle today submitted a copy of a proposed ordinance which establishes a Firemen's Pension and Relief fund; provides for its administration, management, regulation and control and repeals an ordinance which was approved in 1898.

The measure in many particulars is similar to that introduced several days ago and which if passed will provide pensions for police. According to both either firemen or policemen who are retired at 65 years of age would receive one and fifty hundredths dollars for each year of continuous service immediately preceding his retirement.

The Firemen's Pension and Relief Fund shall be under a direction of a committee to be known as the Firemen's Pension and Relief Fund association and the membership is to consist of the mayor, four members of city council, the fire chief and two paid firemen to be selected by council upon recommendation of the whole body of paid firemen.

This is similar to the bill for Police excepting that when a member is removed from the association by councilmatic resolution it cannot be effective unless passed by an affirmative vote of four members of council, one of whom must be the superintendent of public safety. In the Police bill it also must be affirmative vote, one of whom is the mayor.

The fund shall at all times be under the control of the city council and the rules of the association must conform to the ordinance.

The fund shall be applied to only paid members of the department who shall receive honorable discharge, and of families of such injured or killed.

Any allowance that shall be made to those who are retired by reason of disabilities of age shall be in conformity with a uniform scale.

The association may prescribe a minimum period of continuous service, not less than 20 years after which members can be retired.

It may prescribe for a uniform system of pensions to paid members. In that event the amount received is to be according to a uniform scale based upon the number of years service of each paid fireman.

Any such member retired shall be subject to service.

No payments to be made under the ordinance or regulations of the association shall be a charge on any fund in the city treasury.

The basis of apportionment of pension granted shall be determined by the rate of monthly pay at the date of death, honorable discharge or retirement, or by the total amount of pay he has received for his whole service to the city, or by a combination of the rate of pay at death, discharge or retirement with the total amount of pay received by him during service, provided that such basis of determination of the amount shall be uniform and apply to all firemen alike.

No pension shall ever be granted to any paid member of the fire department which shall exceed in any year one half of the annual pay which he received during the year immediately preceding death, discharge or retirement.

(Firemen now receive $150 a month, and the foregoing point would prevent any pension in excess of $75).

The association can accept bequests and be placed in trust. The city treasurer has charge of the trust funds and he is to invest in U. S. government bonds, state bonds or city bonds; certificates of indebtedness or bonds of any other municipality approved by the association.

It is provided that the donor of such trust fund can stipulate particularly how the same shall be invested, maintained and controlled.

The association from time to time can establish a uniform system of relief for paid firemen and families to be paid firemen or families for relief and sustenance when firemen shall have become incapacitated or physically disabled and when, "because of sickness the regular pay of any of the said firemen shall have ceased."

Section 12 says: "That there shall be paid to the Firemen's Pension and Relief fund all moneys received from the state treasury as the city's share from the 2 percent tax paid upon premiums of foreign fire insurance companies in accordance with the provisions of an act of assembly, April 25, 1929."

The proposed bill further provides that the city shall pay to the treasurer in 1931, the sum of $5,000 and a like sum each year after until all the money heretofore appropriated for firemen's pensions in accordance with provisions of an ordinance creating a Pension fund for payment of old age pensions to police and firemen, passed December 12, 1922.

The money can be used by the association to buy paid up annuities for paid members on a basis of their past service at the time the ordinance is passed, or may be used by the association to set up a trust fund.

No firemen shall be required to participate in the payments to or the benefits from any pension or relief fund established by the ordinance; but any paid fireman now in service who shall accept the obligations and benefits of the fund shall do so in writing and must continue such obligations during his employment.

The proposed ordinance says that all paid firemen or those hereafter appointed shall be required to contribute to any pension or relief fund established by the ordinance and before entering upon their service, sign a written agreement to this effect.

The written agreement shall be considered authority for the treasurer to deduct from their pay each month such stipulated sums, not to exceed 3 percent of their salary, as has been assessed for the maintenance of the fund.

The draft says the association can provide for payment of pensions out of the income it shall receive from its trust funds, assessments upon the firemen and from other sources, or it may provide for a system of pensions or annuities to be secured by a policy of group insurance.

The association has the power to procure insurance or annuities for certain paid members of the department and provide payment of pensions out of the income of the Firemen's Pension and Relief fund to firemen who because of age are not insurable.

It is provided, however, that no pension shall be paid in a greater amount than one and fifty hundredths dollars ($1.50) per month for each year of his service at retirement. (This is the same provision as is contained in the ordinance affecting proposed police pensions.)

If, after the passage of the ordinance a fireman has passed 65 years of age and not able to perform his duties, he can be retired and the association shall pay him a monthly pension of one and fifty hundredths dollars ($1.50) for each year of continuous service immediately preceding retirement and it will be paid until death.

At the end of any year the association may pay out of its current revenues unexpended for that year such sums as it shall deem expedient and just to any association of Volunteer firemen heretofore exist-

The ordinance as drafted but not yet presented formally would repeal a pension ordinance passed December 12, 1922, insofar as it relates to pensions for firemen, except that all appropriations and payments made by or changed to the city by virtue of the ordinance shall remain in full force and effect; provided, however, that the implied repeal in the said ordinance (1922) and of an ordinance authorizing and requiring the city treasurer to collect from the proper officers of this commonwealth a certain tax due the city for the use and benefit of members of the fire department and to pay over to the treasurer of the New Castle Firemen's Relief association, approved January 11, 1899, is not affected by the repeal of the said ordinance of 1922 and the ordinance of 1898 is not reenacted thereby but the said ordinance No. 938, approved in 1898 is hereby expressly repealed.

How did Sing Sing prison get its name?

Sing Sing prison at Ossining, New York, takes its name from the village, formerly Sing Sing. The village probably took its name from the Sin Sinks Indians, who originally inhabited the region. The name of the town was changed to Ossining in 1901, the former name having become objectionable because of its association with the prison.

Who gives the orders of the commanders of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets of the United States navy, and what is the rank of that officer?

Admiral William V. Pratt is the present active head of the United States navy. The various fleet commanders are directly responsible to him.

In Burns' poem, "Comin' through the rye," what is meant by rye, a river or a field of grain?

While it seems evident that the River Rye is referred to, the editor of the Scottish American has decided that a field of grain is meant.

Was Francis Bacon, the essayist, ever a judge in any court of justice?

There is no record of Francis Bacon holding judicial office. He did study for the law, however, was admitted to the bar in 1582, became a member of parliament, and was appointed solicitor-general of England and later attorney general.

To what family does the fur-bearing animal called the fisher belong?

The skin of the polecat is used as a fur under the name of fisher and is similar but inferior to that of the marten. Its color is of a deep blackish brown, the underparts yellowish and the ears edged with white with a whitish space around the muzzle. The long, black hairs, pulled out by the furrier, are used in making artists' brushes. The polecat of North America is the skunk.

Parent Domination Reason For Shy Boy States Boys' Leader

Regional Boys' Work Secretary
Of "Y" National Council
Tells Fault Of Parents

The shy boy, ever present in class rooms and clubs, is the outcome of a stern parent's domination, declared A. R. Kiemer, regional boys' work secretary of the national council of the Y. M. C. A. in the course of his discussion at the local "Y" during the session of the boys' work leadership conference.

The other speaker was Charles E. Ford, boys' work secretary of the state.

Kiemer showed that with the usual daring boy in schools, who is always in front in all activities—the mischievous boy, the class room is hardly without the shy boy who hesitates and keeps to himself.

"Previous home experience is the cause of the shy boy," Kiemer said. "Somewhere their feelings have been stepped on. Their father and mothers have dominated them. When they wanted to do something their own way, or something that other boys and girls were doing, their parents halted their progress."

"Here is a little boy who has had no experience in life, to whom the grade school principal is worse than the corner policeman, and who does not know what to expect when he enters the school head's office."

Kiemer admonished the assembled boys' leaders, members of the Phoenix and Senior Hi-Y groups to refrain from dominating their charges. "Don't use your position to dominate the lives of kids," he said. "It's a great temptation. Teachers suffer from it."

The little squirrels were brought out of their nest for the first time by the mother squirrel this morning. As soon as the squirrels are weaned the mother forces them out to shift for themselves. Usually they do not stay about the court house but hunt homes in trees in the surrounding neighborhood.

It is a black caracul coat, made of full, supple skins, and therefore the more to be desired, both for beauty and wearing qualities. The caracul collar frames the face in shawl effect, and is gathered in back, so that it may be draped high about the neck, when snow-laden winds blow hard. The cuffs are interestingly shaped. . . . And, of course, the design portrays the fitted lines that make the new "fur silhouette" becoming to so many types of women.

General Martin Defends Pinchot

General Edward Martin Defends Pinchot in Speech in Centre County

PUBLIC UTILITIES ISSUES DISCUSSED

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Policies of Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee for governor, relating to public utilities, today bore the stamp of approval of the head of the Republican party in Pennsylvania.

At a rally of the Centre county Republican committee at Centre Mills near here, General Edward Martin, Republican State chairman, told his hearers "There is nothing in the personal policies advocated by Gifford Pinchot to which any fair public utility can object."

There is a widespread belief, Martin said, that the time has come for sweeping changes in the methods of the Public Service Commission and he pointed out that Francis Shunk Brown, Pinchot's opponent in the primary, had advocated such changes.

Discussing the bolt of financial leaders to John M. Hemphill, Liberal-Democratic candidate, on the ground that Pinchot's election would be detrimental to business, General Martin said:

"As a professional and business man I have always been rated ultra-conservative. The government has decided, however, that better and cheaper service can be rendered in some things by giving them monopolies. These are principally the public utilities and, while advocating as little interference as possible by government in business, governing regulations must be enforced in regard to these monopolies in order that both consumer and stockholder be served well."

The state chairman defended Pinchot's record in relation to business by pointing to the adoption of the administrative code for the state and the budget system.

Both Martin asserted, have aided administration of the state business and have not been detrimental to general business.

Sinking Fund Is Increased
At Last Night's Meeting
By Addition Of $30,000

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education which took place Tuesday evening in the Board room of the Lincoln school building, bids were opened on the finishing of the walls of the lobby of the Lincoln auditorium. A. C. Holler, local contractor put in a bid of $1400; Fobes and Haven of New Castle put in a bid of $1,000, while Charles Blaney of Aliquippa submitted a bid of $935.45. No definite action was taken, however at the meeting.

Upon the advice of bankers, the board invested $30,000 more in time certificates, making $60,000 in the sinking fund for the school. This action was taken upon the recommendation of the Sinking Fund Committee.

Adjustments upon the auditorium are all completed with the exception of the doors which seem to be tight. This may be remedied however, during the winter months. The tile flooring is breaking, and not proving at all successful. The entire tiling may have to be replaced it was stated so final payment on same was held up at last night's session.

Payment on the Emergency Lighting system is also being deferred until the system is passed by the State Inspector. The Board gave permission to get competitive bids on venetian blinds for the windows in the auditorium at last night's meeting. The room is being used for a study hall, and blinds are badly needed.

A letter was received from Mr. Asper of Koppel relative to injuries received by his son some time ago in a football game, and asking that the board pay the balance of doctor bills, to the amount of $350. Quoting an opinion from the Board attorney stating that the Board is a municipal corporation for exercising governing functions and is not liable for negligence of school directors or employees. The Asper letter was filed.

An independent foot ball team consisting of former high school grid stars was granted permission to use the Athletics field for a game on Armistice Day and on November 22. The charge levied was $50.

Permission was also granted the Girl Scouts to use the gymnasium on October 17 for the annual Court of Awards program. The use of the auditorium was given the B. P. O. E. who, combined with other fraternal organizations will give a memorial service December 7 at a cost of $33.

H. W. Smith, Blayne Hancher and W. E. Bayers were appointed a committee to look into the needs of a piano in the auditorium. They will investigate, and report their findings at the next meeting of the board.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Dr. James Kirby, noted educator, who has been doing special work in the local junior high schools in Ellwood City, gave a stirring talk to a representative body of mothers at the second of the fall meetings of the Ellwood City Women's Club Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Elks club rooms.

Dr. Kirby chose as his subject "The Home and the School" and pointed out salient and indisputable facts concerning the life of the child from the ages of one year to five years. He stated that scientists have proved that 75 per cent of the influence regarding the potential abilities of the child regarding his future life are instilled in this early period of his life. He further remarked that if the schools receive a child who has been taught to think for himself and has formed regular habits of cleanliness, eating and sleeping in the home, has a greater start toward success in his future life as a student and a citizen in the community.

Dr. Kirby's remarks were straight and to the point and gave the mothers present much food for thought. The business meeting opened at 2:30 with Mrs. J. W. Humphrey presiding. Mrs. T. B. Magee acted as secretary in place of Mrs. L. J. Baker whose resignation was accepted as secretary. Mrs. B. J. Bell was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Baker's resignation, and will assume her duties at the next meeting.

The lighter part of the program was capably handled by Miss Rosemary McCandless who gave two humorous readings, "Here Comes the Bride" and "Teaching Arithmetic."

The 1930-31 yearbooks were distributed and explained by Mrs. Humphrey in the absence of Mrs. Lillian Thomas, chairman of the Program committee. The speaker of the afternoon was introduced by Mrs. Catherine Charles, with a few well-chosen words.

Women's Club To Support Girl Scout Hut Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's club which took place Tuesday afternoon in the Elks club, an important piece of business which transpired was the sanction of the club members to use $400 of the building and loan stock for collateral for the purpose of negotiating a loan by the Girl Scout council, which will be used to complete the hut being constructed at Wurttemberg along the creek, in the rear of the Wurttemberg school house.

Mrs. John Hough, a member of the club and an active official in the Girl Scout work made a plea for the Girl Scout council, which organization would repay the bank the money when their appropriation came through from the 1931 Community Chest drive, and would pay the interest on same.

It was recalled that the Women's club was instrumental in organizing a Girl Scout movement here several years ago, and the members all seemed more than willing to come to the aid of the organization in the completion of this hut which will be used in an effort to make the present generation and future scouts more "air-minded."

It is expected that the hut will be furnished by the various troops interested in the project. Members of the Girl Scout Council will take lunch at the hut next Friday at 12:30 o'clock.

Pupils Build Fine Tom Thumb Golf Course At West End

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 15.—Prof. W. Ray Smith, in his monthly report to the members of the board of education Tuesday night in the Lincoln building, revealed the interesting fact that the pupils of the West End school have built a very creditable Tom Thumb golf course on the school property. The work was done under the superior eye of the head of the construction department of the school, and the finished course leaves little to be desired in the way of hazards, bunkers, par holes, etc.

The fact that the school contains only pupils from the first to fourth grades, makes the construction of the course more remarkable.

One Fare for Food

How distribution costs have been cut

A & P brings food to your table on a straight line from the sources. That is why A&P food costs so little. Its price is not taxed by the expense of roundabout journeys. There are no road-side bills to pay.

The shortest road, unobstructed by half-way houses, is the A&P route to its stores. That is why A&P can pay growers and other producers well, yet charge its customers very low prices.

American statesmen say our big country's hardest problem is how to cut "the high cost of distribution." What they mean is that too much money is spent on the usually long road between the field and the consumer.

A&P has solved this problem for people who buy in its stores by providing direct rapid transit for food at one small fare.

POLICE FAVOR MORE DRASTIC PISTOL LAW

Members of the Fraternal Order of Police, in session recently at Reading went on record as in favor of having the legislature regulate the sale of fire-arms, according to a copy of the police journal received by New Castle police today.

"Agitation for the closer supervision of the sale of pistols and adoption of laws penalizing those who have no right to possess them has been very prevalent during the past few years.

The reign of lawlessness, murder, robbery and other forms of crime, according to the magazine, has brought about in a great measure because of the unrestricted sale of firearms.

The organization, it is pointed out, for 10 years has advocated both strong state laws governing the sale and distribution of pistols and a federal law in addition to doubly counteract the present crime wave which has continued undiminished, due to laxity of pistol laws.

The present regulatory laws are a failure, it is reported and when the police convened at Reading they passed a resolution stating that:

"Whereas the use of fire arms is a contributing factor to the reign of crime and lawlessness existing in this country, and

"Whereas, the sale of fire arms is unrestricted,

"Therefore be it resolved that this convention do hereby use its influence in encouraging and informing the legislative bodies of this country of the merits of a law regulating the sale of fire arms, particularly incorporating therein the requirement of the character of the person necessary for the possession must be contained from judicial officers of the district in which the owner of said fire arm resides."

The resolution was presented by John Fleming, New Kensington.

It is common knowledge that after a murder has been committed and the gun has been found the identity of the owner has been sought and the first question asked is "Who killed the man?" These are followed by "Where did the pistol come from?" and "Why did the killer have it?" according to Kenneth Campbell's article in the New York World.

Nine times out of ten, the author is accredited with writing the answer to these questions are never found. The country has no central registration system of firearms and it is virtually impossible to trace weapons used in murders.

Years ago it was not uncommon for police to make several arrests each month for carrying concealed weapons. However, locally there have not been many arrests. It is not known whether this is due to the non-carrying of concealed weapons.

Wants All the World to Know

"About ten years ago I got so weak and rundown that I felt miserable all over. One day my husband said, 'Why don't you take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' When I had taken two bottles I felt better so I kept on. My little daughter was born when I had been married twelve years. Even my doctor said, 'It's wonderful stuff.' You may publish this letter for I want all the world to know how this medicine has helped me."

It wasn't any magician's trick that made Orange American Gas a better regular gasoline. It wasn't accomplished by waving a wand.

Prohibition Has Little Effect On Major Crime

Local police have received copies of the Fraternal Order of Police journal in which is an article by Lemuel B. Schofield of Philadelphia, in which he reports that Prohibition has had little effect on major crime.

Schofield is director of Public Safety and the article is taken from the Philadelphia Record.

The safety directors contention, in direct contrast with the popular belief that the Volstead act is di-liquor was plentiful and easier to obtain."

"The illicit liquor traffic," said Schofield, "is responsible for about 10 per cent of the total crimes in Philadelphia. I do not think that prohibition has had as much to do with crimes as is popularly believed."

"Our record in homicides shows that severe gang warfare is unsolved. These are the hardest to handle, because the police are given little or no assistance by the so-called racketeers. Even the family of the dead person, although they will say nothing, these even as they are what are actually be called murder mysteries."

Schofield is accredited with stating that 50 per cent of the major crimes committed in Philadelphia are due directly or indirectly to liquor, but that 40 per cent of these crimes would have been committed by persons under the influence of alcohol before prohibition "when

Do You Blush?

Often you are embarrassed because you blush easily. Not necessarily serious matters but very frivolous things cause it.

Especially is this true when you would like most to have the appearance of calm and poise. The mention of certain subjects will make you blush. And there have been occasions when a blush gave rise to the impression among others that you were the guilty one in affairs in which you had no part.

As you realize your face was becoming red the thought heightened the color.

Your discomfiture was complete and your appearance gave some reason for a suspicion that you had been guilty of that of which you may or you may not have been accused.

Supersensitive persons and those who are too anxious to be pleasing and popular often blush easily. Self-conscious, with a few things they would like to keep hidden but nothing seriously wrong, emotional and more or less secretive natures are likely to flush up easily. You should try for better control of your emotions.

Mayo Stresses Need For Clinical Doctors

Modern Universities Of Medicine Over-Stress Cultural Background

Dr. William J. Mayo, Speaker at Dedication Of Temple's New Medical School

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—Modern universities over-stress the cultural background and pay too little attention to training in clinical medicine in educating the doctors of the future. Dr. William J. Mayo, chief of staff of the noted Mayo clinic, told a group of the nation's leading physicians and surgeons here today at the dedication exercises of Temple University's $1,500,000 school of medicine.

He also advocated the training of a greater number of general medical practitioners instead of specialists.

Pre-Medical Courses
"The student emerging from high school today takes at least two years in pre-medical courses which are fundamentally basic, but have little to do with the actual practice of medicine," he explained. With this training the student enters the medical school and for two years, generally speaking, he remains in the hands of those instructors who teach the fundamental sciences of medicine. Therefore of his training of from six to eight years only the last two years are really concerned with clinical practice.

"From the first day the student enters medical college he should come into contact with clinical medicine," Dr. Mayo declared. The pendulum has swung from the "dedication of the clinical" to the "dedication of cultural education," he charged.

"Perhaps the time will come when our undergraduate medical schools will turn out only general practitioners," he added.

Cost Is Enormous
The cost of educating students for the medical profession also is too great, in the opinion of the noted surgeon. The cost of preparing each student is from $7,000 to $10,000, he said.

"The result may be to deter men of moderate means taking up the study of medicine and thus may be formed a privileged group or aristocracy which the history of medicine does not warrant," warned Dr. Mayo.

Several hundred physicians and surgeons who are attending the five-day sessions of the American College of Surgeons Congress were present at the dedicatory exercises. Several thousand Temple alumni, students, faculty members and visiting educators likewise were present at the ceremonies, which took place in St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church near the new medical college building.

Dr. Mayo was given an honorary degree of doctor of laws by the university in honor of his work as head of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn. Conferring of the insignia was handled by Dr. Charles E. Beury, bank president and head of Temple University, while Dr. W. Wayne Babcock of the surgical staff of the university presented the academic honors.

Canadian Boat Favorite Today In Second Race

Bluenose Of Canada Favored To Beat Gertrude L. Thebaud Today In Race

(International News Service)
ABOARD U. S. S. CONYNGHAM, OFF GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 15.—(By Radio)—Bluenose of Lunenburg, N. S., and Gertrude L. Thebaud, of Gloucester, prides of the fishing fleets of Canada and the states, got away at 10 a. m. today on what the crews and spectators hoped will be the second race of the international fishermen's series. The Gloucesterman, skippered by Captain Charley Johnson in the absence of Captain Ben Pine, who was in a Boston hospital with sinus trouble, was one up on Bluenose. Bluenose was the favorite today because of the blow. As they crossed the starting line of the 37 1/2-8 nautical miles triangular course the wind was singing in the rigging. As in previous races, Gertrude L. Thebaud crossed the starting line a minute ahead of the Lunenburger and soon led her rival by two schooner lengths.

Cripple Newsboy Gets Equipment

Finds Business Improving As He Gets Much Needed Equipment

Clarence Feree, cripple salesman of newspapers and periodicals at the City Building corner, who was made happy by the recent generosity of the people of the city in providing funds with which to purchase a much needed wheel chair, is making progress as a business man and is now in possession of a fine well built stand, which he sets at the curb and in which he can keep his newspapers and periodicals clean and dry.

Although this cost money, which means that he must curtail his living expenses for many weeks in order that it may be paid for, his foresight in providing improved service for his customers, is being rewarded by increasing business. The increase in business will mean that it will be easier for him to pay for the stand.

And now for the new wheel chair. It has been ordered and should be here any day. It is of a type that will provide him with exercises for his paralyzed legs and he is hopeful that it will help him secure a return of the use of the same.

Justice Of Peace Is Charged With Owning Big Still

Point Marion, Pa., Justice Of Peace Held For Court On $3,000 Bond

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 15.—John De. Gardeyn, Point Marion justice of the peace, today was named as the former owner of a bootleg still located on the Geisler farm, Dunbar township. Alderman Robert Wright ordered Gardeyn held for court on $3,000 bond on charges of violating the liquor law.

Naming of Gardeyn came during a hearing for Joseph Hart, recently arrested in Wilkes-Barre after being a fugitive from justice for a year.

Hart testified that the plant, operated from April, 1928, to May, 1929, had an output of 100 gallons daily and was owned by Gardeyn.

The liquor, he said, was shipped to West Virginia for distribution. Hart claimed that he was to have become a part owner of the still after all debts were paid.

Steel And Iron Buyers Cautious

Tin Mill Operations Are Holding At 60 Percent, Slightly Less Than 1929

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—Declining iron and steel specifications in ratio to increased caution among buyers will be noted by the iron age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow. Tin Mill operations are holding at 60 per cent and Tin Plate business will fall less than 10 per cent behind 1929. Renewed weakness in scrap, pig iron and finished steel prices, accompanied by a fresh wave of extreme conservatism, also is noted by the iron age. Heavy melting scrap is off 50c. A ton at Philadelphia, Chicago and Cincinnati and off 25c. at St. Louis and Cleveland. No further reduction is reported at Pittsburgh but only substantial mill purchases in the next few days will maintain present prices.

Foundry pig iron has declined 50c. a ton at Pittsburgh and has been marked down $1 a ton at Buffalo for local delivery. Inter-district competition has become more severe, prices at Lake Erie furnaces for distant shipment receding 50c. a ton to $16. In finished steel, black sheets have declined $1 a ton and vitreous enameled sheets $2 while irregularities on blue annealed sheets are more numerous.

Composite prices have receded to new lows for the year with finished steel off 2 1/2c. to 2 1/2c. a lb. pig iron down from $16.38 to $16.29 a gross ton, and scrap from $13.25 to $12.92 a gross ton.

Two Plead Guilty In Chicken Theft

Irwin And Morrow Jailed In Default Of $1,000 Bail After Hearing

Otis Irwin and Clifford Morrow of New Sheffield, arrested Tuesday morning for the theft of a dozen chickens from A. P. Beight, Edenburg, October 9, pleaded guilty to larceny and receiving stolen goods at a hearing before Alderman W. E. Marshall Tuesday afternoon and were lodged in county jail to await the next term of court.

They were unable to furnish bail of $1,000 set against each. The pair was arrested by State Policeman Henchek, now stationed here, and State Policeman Foley of the Beaver Falls station. An investigation into the theft was conducted by County Detective Lee and Constable O'Brien.

Italian Lodge Will Journey To Farrell

Private automobiles will be used to convey the New Castle delegation to the Mercer county town.

CANNED HEAT MELODY HEARD AT CITY JAIL

Canned heat and bay rum have been causing considerable discord in the city for some time, due to the tendency of certain male individuals to use them for beverage purposes.

These have never been known to promote harmony among their users. And it was proven to the satisfaction of many last night, when a number of male voices in "perfect" discord were heard last night issuing from the city jail in an attempt to render "My Old Kentucky Home."

It was only the "white line gang" practicing after an over indulgence in bay rum and canned heat.

Money And Goods Taken By Thief Who Used Key On Front Door

Goods missing included a 25-pound sack of sugar and some candy. Between three and four hundred pennies were also taken.

Parkers Forget Street Cleanup

It seems as though the motorists will not remember that Tuesday and Friday nights are used by the city street department in sweeping the streets of the city.

Apparently the only way they can be taught is to have the parked cars that interfere with the sweeping pulled in and the owner required to pay the towing and storage charges.

There were eight machines parked on the downtown streets last night that had to be towed off in order that the regular sweeping might be done. The owners paid the usual towing and storage fees this morning.

Some of the owners came in to report stolen machines, only to find that their cars had been removed to a garage because of the necessity of sweeping the streets of the city.

HUNTING LICENSES
Application for hunting licenses are coming in quite rapidly at the office of County Treasurer, Adda v. Smiley. To date 195 licenses have been issued.

Gasoline consumption in Mexico this year is estimated at 79,253,300 gallons.

Police Department Gets Swimming Pool

Members of the police department had visions of a swimming pool for their individual use this morning. That is, it looked as if they would have to swim in order to perform their duties in the patrol barn.

A small lake was created in the patrol barn when the sewer of that portion of the City building became clogged up and the water backed up several inches deep in the barn. Workmen of the street department were used in remedying the situation.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

21. Daniel Boone—News of War

MANY WEEKS AFTER THE BATTLES OF LEXINGTON AND CONCORD HAD TAKEN PLACE THE BELATED NEWS OF THE FIRST FIGHTING BETWEEN THE AMERICAN COLONISTS AND THE BRITISH TROOPS REACHED BOONESBOROUGH.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

MANY BACKWOODSMEN TRAVELED EASTWARD ACROSS THE MOUNTAINS TO JOIN THE COLONIAL FORCES FIGHTING THE BRITISH ON THE ATLANTIC SEABOARD. BOONE, HOWEVER, BELIEVED HE COULD BEST SERVE HIS COUNTRY IN KENTUCKY. IF BOONESBOROUGH FELL, THE FRONTIER WOULD BE PUSHED BACK TO THE MOUNTAINS.

AT THAT MOMENT BRITISH AGENTS WERE SECRETLY AT WORK INCITING THE INDIANS TO ATTACK THE SETTLEMENTS;—NOT ONLY SUPPLYING THE REDSKINS WITH POWDER AND BALL BUT OFFERING BOUNTIES FOR AMERICAN SCALPS.

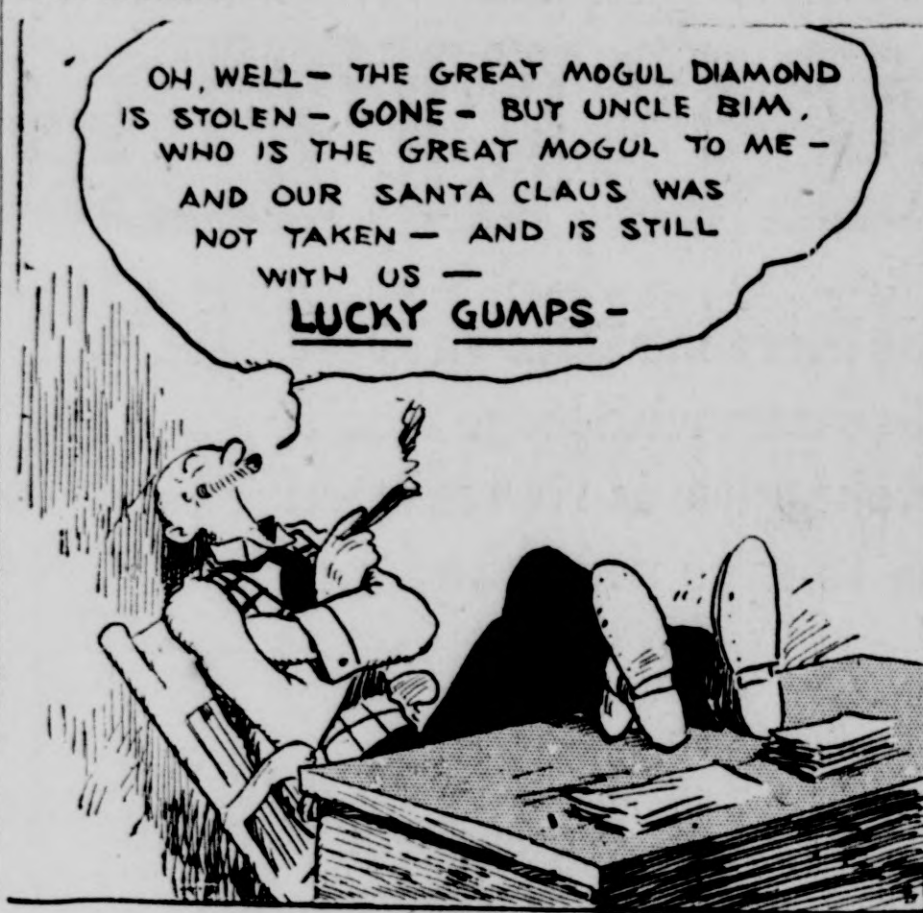

THE SHAWNEES, STILL SMARTING FROM THEIR DEFEAT AT POINT PLEASANT, AND THE CHEROKEES, ALREADY REGRETTING HAVING SOLD THEIR RICH KENTUCKY HUNTING GROUNDS, WERE EASILY PERSUADED TO TAKE THE WAR-PATH TO EXTERMINATE THE WHITE SETTLERS.

High Prepares For Woodward

Toledo High School To Prove Difficult For Locals

LIGHT WORKOUT OCCURS TUESDAY

New Castle High School football team was forced to practice under a hot sun at Taggart Field on Tuesday afternoon in preparation for Woodward High of Toledo who will play the local team here on Friday night at Taggart Field. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sympathized with the boys and sent them through a light workout.

The large gathering of gridders first congregated at Taggart Field minus the large crowd of fans and passed, punted, dropped, kicked the ball, and some of the boys tackled each other for a pastime until Coach Bridenbaugh ordered "In Line." All the boys formed in a straight line and William L. Klee, assistant coach yelled for about one half hour a series of exercises.

The next thing on the program coach Bridenbaugh and assistant coaches, Thomas and Klee, selected their first, second and third string team and all three teams went through a long signal drill. Following this Coach Bridenbaugh ordered his huskies through dummy scrimmage. This concluded Tuesday's workout. A hard workout is scheduled for this afternoon.

Through dummy scrimmage the coach is able to let his boys see exactly how to work the new plays which he is now drilling the gridders on. Fans are apt to see several tricky plays which have been developed by Coach Bridenbaugh.

Woodward Preparing For Game
While New Castle is doing its stuff here in preparation for this contest Coach Bevan and his pigskin hurlers are training diligently in Toledo. Being the first athletic contest between these two schools, Coach Bevan is eager to start the Toledoans on the road to victory.

If rumors which come from Toledo are correct, fans will see one of the best looking football squads ever to travel on the green of Taggart Field. Coach Bevan says that his team has on it several lanky gridders who should give the locals plenty of trouble.

The Toledo coach also states that his boys will be in great condition to confront the Bridenbaugh undefeated machine. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner stated today that a rumor is spreading that the price of admission to this game will be raised. This is false, according to Gardner.

Bessemer To Hold Scrimmage Today

Coach Fredericks of Bessemer will put his charges through a workout early this evening in preparation for the game with Scienceville at Scienceville, Saturday. The Scienceville team beat Union. Stanley's wrist was injured in a game with New Wilmington. He may be ready by Saturday.

McCarthy Signs To Lead Gotham Yanks

Joe McCarthy, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, has signed a contract to manage the New York Yankees. The agreement is good for two years. He succeeds Bob Shawkey. It is probable Shawkey will remain as a coach. It is said his salary will be $30,000, a season.

Seven Harrier Veterans Commence Hard Training

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 15.—Seven members of the Westminster college cross country team now in training for the start of the season October 18 at Grove City are veteran members of the distance team. These men are: Captain Elmer Myers, Sharon; Paul Quimby, Sharon; David Maxwell, New Wilmington; Lorenz Stocker, Pittsburgh; Matthew Gilliland, New Wilmington; Robert Wallace, Coraopolis; and James Smalley, Elizabeth. "Zerk" Graham, former Colgate runner, is again coaching the hill and dale team.

In addition to the seven veterans, six freshmen of ability are on the Blue and White harrier squad, and early season workouts would indicate the strongest cross country combination of recent years for Westminster.

Marcella Eleven To Play West Pittsburgh

Marcellas Are Eager To Add West Pittsburgh Gridders To List Of Victories

Marcellas football team will play the West Pittsburgh grid team on Saturday afternoon at Centennial field, it was announced today. West Pittsburgh so far this season holds a victory over the West Side Olympics and will be out to stop the winning streak of the South Side team. The Marcellas on the other hand have set back Mahoningtown Oakland and the Colored A. C. The game on Saturday will start under way at three o'clock.

Shenango To Play At Mercer, Friday

East New Castle Eleven Is Preparing For Mercer High Gridders

Shenango high school football team will play its fourth game of the season on Friday afternoon at three o'clock, when the East New Castle gridders travel to Mercer, Pa., where they will clash with the eleven from that high school.

Shenango is training daily at East New Castle and Coach Johnston stated that his boys will be in good condition following injuries to many of his gridders.

Robin Hood Eleven Tops Young Bulldogs

At the George Washington field on Tuesday afternoon the Robin Hood football team defeated the Young Bulldogs 25 to 0. Harry Giddet, playing his initial game for the Robin Hoods, played a brilliant game. He made two touchdowns. The playing of Farrow and Wilkes was outstanding for the Robin Hoods, Wilkes making a touchdown and an extra point and Farrow crashing through for a touchdown. For the Young Bulldogs the playing of Bill Cavin was a feature.

Union High Will Play Rayen Team

Union high school football team takes on another tough customer Friday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at the Scotland Lane field when the Rayen High Reserves will be met. Announcement to this effect was made by Coach David M. Boyd today.

Up until late last night Union was without a game for this week, but the Rayen team requested a game for Friday afternoon and Coach Boyd consented to accommodate them. The Union team is in fine shape following their recent defeat of the Mercer high team. All of the regulars will be in the lineup against the Youngstowners. The Union boys are anxious to win this battle.

Intensive drills have been started at Union in preparation for the game.

Pittsburgh Pirates Sign George Grant

When the Pirates flit south next winter they will have George A. Grant, Rochester, International, among the training crew, according to a Pittsburgh announcement today. He is a right hander, 27, 5 feet 11 1-2 inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. His home is in Alabama.

Gridiron Gossip

Coach "Dike" Beede is going to dig deep into his bag of tricks this week and it is a safe bet that the Westminster Titans will have a lot of plays ready for the Grove City game on Saturday. To date the Titans have shown nothing in the way of intricate formations, using practically straight football. Grove City is weak breaking up forward passes and it may be that Beede is figuring on throwing a lot of them.

Carnegie Tech coaches are going to have a lot of work to do this week, in preparing for that Notre Dame game on Saturday at the South Bend stadium. The Tech boys have been scouted to death by the men of Rockne and for that reason a complete new set of plays is going to be used. The Techies are highly confident of taking the measure of the Rocknemen, and inasmuch as this is the first major game for the Scotties they hope to gain national recognition through a defeat of the Irish.

When Howard college of Birmingham, Alabama, invades Pittsburgh on Friday night to battle the Duquesne university team at Forbes field, it is going to be a Notre Dame vs. Notre Dame game. The Howard college team is coached by Eddie McLane, a former Notre Dame grid star, a pupil of Knute Rockne's, while Elmer Layden, mentor of the Dukes, is a former member of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame. The Dukes are figured the winners in this fracas for Friday under the flood lights.

Allegheny college will have a tough battle on hands this week in tackling the good little Thiel team. The Greenville team has given Temple, Carnegie Tech and Geneva tough tussles in the first three games and they are figuring on winning this game at the home lot on Saturday. Allegheny, fresh from a 7 to 6 victory over Westminster, is going to try hard to make it three straight victories for the season.

While the schools are talking on so many other extras, why not train children for jury service?—The San Bernardino Daily Sun.

Tennis Star Weds Philadelphia Girl

George M. Lott, Member Of Davis Cup Team Elopses With Miss Abigail Allen

Are Married In Maryland—Romance Began Out Of Mutual Love For Sports

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—A romance starting during the spring campaign to return the prize Davis Cup to American shores had ended today in the wedding of George M. Lott, of Chicago, famous tennis star, and Miss Abigail Stapleford, Allen Philadelphia.

The young couple eloped to Elkton, Maryland's Gretna green, yesterday and were pronounced man and wife by the city's "marrying parson" the Rev. Edward Minor, retired Baptist minister.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Clayton Allen, of Abington, Pa. She gave her age as 21 at the marriage license bureau while Lott said he was 23.

Speedy Romance

The couple's romance grew out of their mutual love for sports, friends of the newly married pair revealed today. They met last spring at the home of Fitz Eugene Dixon, captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team. Since Lott's return from Paris this summer he had visited at the Allen home frequently but no one expected the whirlwind courtship to climax in an elopement.

Late yesterday afternoon the couple motored to the little Maryland town, 30 miles distant, and were quickly married.

Lott whose home is in Chicago was a member of this season's Davis Cup team, losing to Cochet and Borotra in the finals of the International matches. Last year he and Johnny Doe, of Los Angeles, won the National Doubles championship. Incidentally Doe recently became a bridegroom also. Shortly after his return from France this year Lott announced he was through with international competition abroad and would enter the advertising business confining his play to tournaments in this country.

Former Chicago Champ
Lott first came into prominence when he was 16 by winning the Chicago City Tennis championship. He entered the University of Chicago and three years ago won his first place on the Davis Cup team. The same year he defeated William Tilden, Philadelphia's great tennis player, and Rene La Coste of France, but later during the same season he succumbed before Tilden's brilliant play. He replaced Francis T. Hunter on the Davis Cup team in 1929 and this season he was reappointed to the team. He graduated from the University of Chicago last year.

Ciccone To Play Against "Irish"

Bennie Ciccone, former grid star for Phil Bredenbaugh on the New Castle High School team, and now a member of the freshman team at Duquesne Freshmen-Notre Dame "B" or Reserves game at Forbes Field.

Ciccone is becoming very popular with the Duke officials, and especially with Coach "Buff" Donelli, and last week was appointed captain of the Dukes team against Potomac State.

The Duke freshmen are being given lots of hard work this week in preparation for their talented foes.

Fog Big Handicap At B. & O. Yards

Fog banks rolling up from a vast swamp near New Castle junction has slowed down yard shifting operations of the Baltimore and Ohio and P. & L. E. considerably, officials reported today. The condition has been the same each morning for the past few weeks. Officials state extra precautions must be taken by yard crews when fog envelops the yard.

All-American Coaches

No. 2.—Glenn Warner

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a new football series by Jack Sords, famous sports cartoonist. Watch for the rest!

the sunlit stadium at Palo Alto, Cal., but Glenn (Pop) Warner has starred as a coach at both spots.

Run your eyes down the list of the late Walter Camp's All-Americans and you spot the words "Warner of Cornell," the year is 1901 and the position is guard.

Thereafter the name of Warner does not appear in the list, but it's there—by proxy. In 1911 and 1912—Thorpe of Carlisle. In 1915 and 1916, Peck of Pittsburgh. In 1918 Hilty of Pittsburgh. In 1919 Stein of Pittsburgh. In 1929 Nevers of Stanford.

Thorpe, a halfback; Peck, a center; Hilty, a tackle; Stein, a guard, and Nevers, a fullback, they were all Warner men—his contribution to the list of All-Americans.

As coach at Carlisle, Pittsburgh and then Stanford, Pop Warner has rolled up a record which gives him a place among the best known coaches throughout this generation of football.

The Old Fox, they call him on the Pacific coast. A good name for a good coach as Warner is one of the craftiest mentors the game has ever seen.

NEW GEM RAZOR Analyzed

Read the above features of the new Gem Micromatic. Here at last is a real advance in the design of razors and blades—not just an improvement—but a revolutionary invention that puts the Gem Micromatic in a class by itself—superior in shaving ability, superior in mechanical construction, superior in its feel in your hand and on your face.

NEW SHAVING DISCOVERY

SCIENCE ACCLAIMS
SURGICAL STEEL
IN NEW BLADES

Keener edge and longer life benefit shavers

The newly developed surgical steel used in Gem Micromatic Blades is one of the greatest metallurgical advances in recent years. The steel experts have finally discovered how to produce a steel that takes a micromatically perfect edge yet is so tough that it stands the strain of morning-after-morning use for many extra shaves.

Patented by U. S.

The new Gem Micromatic Blade has a patented construction. The U. S. Government has granted it Patent No. 1,739,280 and Patent No. 1,773,614.

Fits All Gem Razors

The new blade fits all Gem Razors—but when used in the Gem Micromatic Razor, it gives new joy in shaving that man has never before experienced.

NEW RAZOR CALLED
"BOON TO HUMANITY"

One man who has just tried the new Gem Micromatic Razor said in an interview today that he considered it an outstanding contribution to the American home. "Only with the advent of the Gem Micromatic," he told our reporter, "has a really revolutionary improvement been made. This new razor gives a shave to which men will actually look forward. Think what this means in American homes. Millions of men will start the day with brighter dispositions. Their whole outlook on life will be influenced by this one factor of a better shave."

Men of this city are amazed at the radically new Gem Micromatic Razor and Blades.

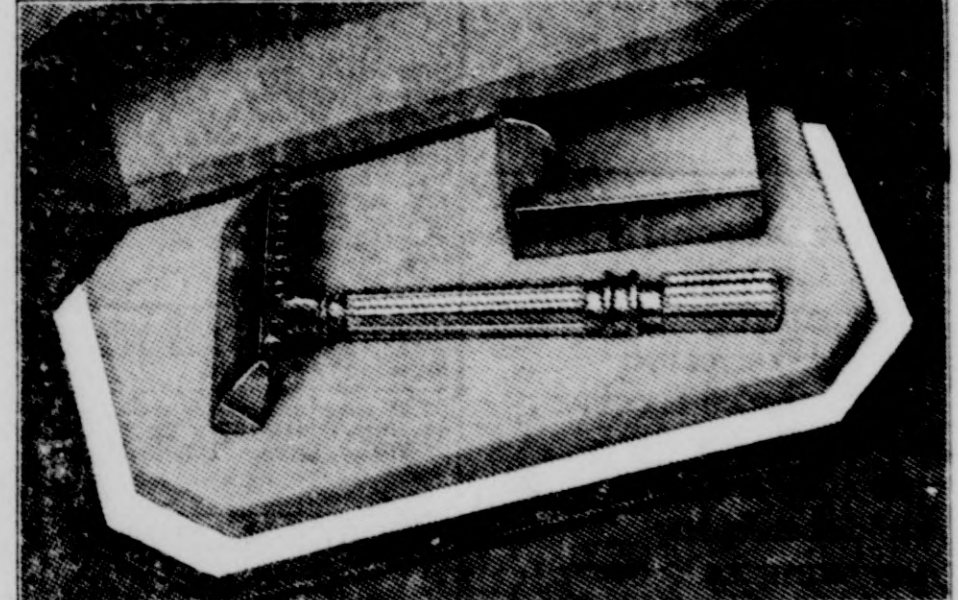

Easiest to Operate

This patented razor is mechanically different from any other shaving instrument. Twist the handle and the razor opens. Twist the handle again and the razor closes. Automatically the blade moves into the correct shaving position and is locked there.

All One Piece

The new Gem Micromatic is all one piece. There is nothing to take apart. It is amazingly easy to load and to clean... And it gives marvelously cool, clean, quick shaves.

This is the first real razor discovery in over twenty years. It means that millions of razors, even those recently manufactured, will now be abandoned as old fashioned.

Built to $5 Specifications—Priced $1

No expense or pains have been spared to make the new Gem Micromatic Razor Set the most magnificent razor outfit ever sold. The razor itself is gold plated like expensive jewelry. Five Gem Micromatic Blades are sheathed in a gold plated container. The modernistic suede-finish case with its contrasting velour platform is a fitting container for this most modern of safety razors. Although built to $5 specifications, this set is $1 as a special introductory offer. We advise you to get yours at once so that you can begin enjoying Gem Micromatic comfort tomorrow.

NEW YORK STOCKS Are Forced Down

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Though starting the new session at slightly higher price levels, industrial stocks and specialties were gradually forced downward today as stocks were pressed for sale on the big board.

A 3 per cent decline in Steel operations to 55 per cent of mill capacity, a loss of 6 per cent from the last week of September, induced caution among the bulls, and trading tapered off. Stock sales in the first half hour totaled only 326,000 shares about half of yesterday's volume for this period.

Further rallies of a point or two were recorded in the speculative leaders, particularly the stocks receiving publicity by their scarcity in the "loan crowd." A large short interest is supposedly locked up in

U. S. Steel, General Electric, Westinghouse, etc., but judging from this morning's action of the market, the shorts are in no hurry to cover.

Extreme dullness in the whole market in the second hour was in line with expectations in Wall street, following the violent disturbances of the last week or two. The bond market and local commodity markets also lapsed into dullness, with foreign bonds holding more securely than in the last week or two.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Help Child Be Punctual At Worship

Make Sunday Lessons For Youngsters Brief

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
A Great Deal of immorality obtains in some Sunday schools.

Most Sunday schools open with a worship period beginning with a small number of children which gradually increases during the eight or ten minutes of this period. The school were to open one-half hour later, about as many would be tardy. No day school would tolerate such delinquency.

The Sunday school, of course, has no truant officer, and provides no force. It is voluntary and must, therefore, take the children as they come.

But we parents want our children to get moral guidance in the Sunday school. They are we a party to the immoral practice of tardiness? Apparently we don't think it matters. But it does.

When your child or mine strolls into the assembly at the worship period he distracts other children, he impairs the worship spirit. During this period song and prayer presume to be in a spiritual communion with the Heavenly Father. But there can't be much of it with continuous interruption. It we want to encourage religious attitudes in children and teach them not to be nuisances to others we shall have them arrive at Sunday school on time.

Then this worship period sometimes turns to bedlam when children punch things, even during prayer. When this happens these children would better be on some vacant lot or playground.

What may be done about it? First let the worship period and the lesson period be made more interesting and more brief, with more activities by the children and more opportunities for approved expression by them. Children like to sing when songs are cheerful and a little peppy. Those pupils old enough like to read very short selections alone. Several readings in concert often do so very well. Some like to read Bible passages from memory. What a fine opportunity to stimulate their learning many of the choicest gems from the Book of Books. Few adults make remarks or prayers interesting to children. Think of the tiresome prayers which kids must endure and the sermonizing which they are not allowed to run away from.

A great deal of intolerance is still taught in Sunday school. To teach children the doctrine of any particular faith may do them no harm; but when it frankly tries to make them think all other faiths are wrong it does positive moral injury.

Some day most Sunday school teachers will set themselves to inspire children to become familiar with the fascinating stories of the Bible and the most beautiful selections there with little or no worry about the particular theological implications. It would be wonderful if children were to learn much of content of the Bible in the Sunday school and learn there to enjoy a few moments of reverent spiritual atmosphere and to feel a greater kindness toward others and respect for others' rights and feelings.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

Steubenville Man Robbed By Thugs

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 15.—Frank Laboski, 37, was firmly resolved today that walking to and from work is considerably healthier—and far more inexpensive—than riding in automobiles.

Frank was trudging a dusty road yesterday. A sporty roadster pulled to a halt and three men in the car genially waved Frank inside.

"No use walking when you can ride, eh?" one queried.

Frank began a grateful verbal assent but he didn't finish it.

He was tossed from the car three blocks down the street, minus his watch, stick pin and $20.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Where people hide out on the main streets has always been a puzzle to me, but let something out of the ordinary happen and you can gather a crowd. A fire, a dog fight, a comically dressed advertising man or a demonstration of a fire truck.

Yesterday it was a fire truck demonstration on Mercer street and in five minutes so many people crowded into the street that an automobile had no chance of getting through. One of these trucks that throws a ladder to the top of a six-story building and doesn't sway—that is, the ladder, not the building.

Some of the boys in the fire department got test rides down from the top of the building, coming down in the safety belt used in connection with the ladders. Quite a belt, and it occurred to me it would be a good thing to use when the elevators are busy.

Perhaps you already know it but there is a New Castle chap now playing solos with the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, which is considered to be in the big leagues of orchestras. Arthur Stefano is the lad, and some of you who remember Ed Kurtz's orchestra here may remember the dark haired lad who played the oboe.

He went to Cleveland and continued studying, specializing on the oboe and English horn and when the Cleveland Symphony orchestra casts over the radio, the oboe or English horn soloist is Arthur Stefano.

Here's a request that came in for some minor repairs on that triangle between Croton avenue and the Eastbrook road. Seems that there is a bad gutter in that bit of dirt road, and it is just mean enough to do things to an automobile tire. A lady who reads this column suggests that Stan Treser might want to know about it, and she doesn't like to speak to strange men and doesn't know Stan.

At that there isn't anything strange about W. Stanley. And I know if he can fix that bad spot he will have the regard of the lady in question. Nota Bene. The lady is married.

The influence of football is being felt in the homes of some of our best people these days. A five-year-old on the North Hill was practicing passing last night with a football and while the results of the pass he made were disastrous, his technique promises much for the New Castle high school in about 12 years.

He was making a long pass, one of those spectacular ones. From the living room out into the dining room is not a bad pass at that, the only trouble being that the ball landed smack dab among his mother's best goblets on the dining room table. Score, three goblets at the end of the period.

Got a closeup view of what the well whiskered man is wearing on the Continent, Tuesday afternoon. The Castleton lobby was filled with visitors to the International Road congress who stopped here for a few moments enroute from Pittsburgh to Akron.

One chap was there from Brazil, and he effected a square cut type of black beard that looked like a broom that had been dyed with walnut stain. Another one had a crop of lilacs on that resembled wild azalea, while still another had his face covered from his nose and ears down.

They were interesting, although few of them spoke English. What few did asked plenty of questions. How large is New Castle? What are the industries, and other questions concerning things in which they were interested.

The recently imposed landing and embarkation taxes on passengers at Egyptian ports are to be waived for those whose stay does not exceed 20 days.

THE REAL TRUTH ABOUT STOMACH ACIDS

How to Get Prompt, Safe Relief from Indigestion, Gas Pains, Heartburn, etc.

Do you struggle along day after day—suffering from indigestion, heartburn, gas pains, sour stomach—trying one remedy after another and never finding relief? The probable reason, according to highest medical authority, is that you don't get at the real cause of the trouble—excess acidity. It is untrue that all stomach acids are harmful. They aren't. Your stomach must contain a certain amount of hydrochloric acid for good digestion. Nature put that acid in your stomach. It belongs there. There are, however, different acids—harmful ones—that frequently form in the stomach. They come from fermenting food. They are the acids that cause distress. Yet when you attempt to get relief through ordinary remedies, you often make the condition worse. For most methods are too far. They not only neutralize the trouble-causing excess acids, but they also neutralize the acid of the gastrich juices way below normal. As a consequence, subacidity occurs—too little acid. Digestion can't continue. Again comes distress.

Pepto-Bismol is one preparation that knows the difference between good acids and bad acids. The instant it enters the stomach it gently checks fermentation and the formation of excess acids—then stops. It does not destroy the acid needed for digestion, no matter how much is taken. On the contrary, it adds good digestion. It coats irritated membranes with a soothing, bland film. Relief is quick—and gentle! Pepto-Bismol causes no violent internal reaction, no hiccoughs, such as soda and soda compounds often do.

The next time you are bothered by indigestion, heartburn or gas, do as doctors have advised for 25 years—take Pepto-Bismol. It's pleasant in taste. Prompt and sure in action. Safe for children and infants. In the 3-cornered bottle at your drug-gist's—only 50c. The Norwich Pharmacal Company, Norwich, N. Y.

Cavalry Horses Trot On Streets Of Seventh Ward

Seventh Ward residents were quite interested in the long parade of horseback riders, trotting through that district Tuesday evening. It was a civilian class of horsemen and horsewomen from the Troop F 103rd cavalry stables, Scotland Lane. There were some 20 riders. An unusually long ride was taken Tuesday night by the class, starting north from the stables to Covert Station, circling over to the Mt.
